FEED STARVING WAR CHILDREN, HOOVER PLEADS

Asks All Civilized World to Help.

New York, Oct. 19 [Special].—Herbert Hoover tonight made a compassionate appeal to the civilized world and particularly to America to help avert the wholesale starvation of 40 million children in German-invaded countries of Europe.

Herbert Hoover.

Stressing the urgency of immediate aid, the only living former President of the United States sought to sweep aside hates and prejudices of objectors in his plea for international coöperation to solve the problem in the future interest of humanity.

His address, broadcast over a national radio chain, was a long one. But from beginning to end it unfolded a picture of what Hoover considers to be the staggering and needless wrong being inflicted on millions of innocent civilians. Thru it ran the merciful thread that something could be done if only the more fortunate peoples of the world would act.

Presents Multitude of Facts.

Hoover presented his multitude of facts and conclusions with a clarity that bespoke the engineering mind for which he is noted and his experience in a similar vast program that won him world acclaim after the World war.

Dividing his subject into sections, he told how his plan could be carried out successfully. He explained why warring enemies could be expected to comply. He accounted for efforts and progress that already have been made.

He answered specific objections of those who believe his plan would not work and what he termed organized propaganda of misrepresentation concerning his plan. He challenged any contention this country is not responsible in some degree to contributing to the unnecessary holocaust of death.

Summaries of the sections of Hoover's speech follow:

PART I.—THE PLAN

Hoover described the plan proposed a year ago by himself and a committee of American religious and public leaders to prevent wholesale starvation in the German invaded countries. He recalled that since the problem first was presented Serbia, Greece, Lithuania, Latvia, and Estonia have been conquered.

"Today," he said, "there are somewhere near 40 millions of children in German-invaded democracies. Millions of them are in jeopardy. And these are peoples who fought for their freedom, who were overpowered, who have been subjected to terrible oppression. Their pleas for food ascend hourly to the free democracies of the west."

PART II.—THE SCOURGE

He noted the starvation he had forecast and hoped to prevent has swept over many of these innocent people during the last winter and spring. He recounted two of the heart-breaking reports which reach his committee daily.

He said a survey of Belgium by leading physicians and health authorities reaffirmed that strong adults can survive for a while on a meager ration of bread and potatoes, mostly furnished of late by the Germans.

"But the shortage in meats, fats, and milk is crucifying the children," he asserted. "The people are devoting practically all their meager fats and milk to the children under 3 years of age. Yet with all this sacrifice there is a deficiency of food even for the little ones.

Effect on Children Told.

"The report says that 47 per cent of the children in kindergartens, 63 per cent in primary schools, and 42 per cent in the higher schools were in a definitely weak condition. Many children were unable to come to school at all. The report ends with the statement that 'the health of several generations will be irremediably impaired if nothing is done to relieve the present condition.'"

The second case was a report from Poland concerning Jews in the city of Warsaw. Hoover said it showed that during July deaths increased to

U.S. Aids Urge Trade Gain for Great Britain

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19 [Special].—On the theory that in the postwar world it is inevitable that England must experience a shift in international trade favorable to herself if she is to achieve satisfactory rehabilitation, the department of commerce held today that the only sound means of realizing "the necessary end" was in the creation of a world which will permit England to export more than before the war.

The conclusion was based on an analysis of Britain's changing situation as a creditor country in the course of financing her war effort, and an estimate of her postwar trade position in relation to the United States and the British empire.

Widespread Distress Possible.

Failure to create the necessary conditions for England to export more than she did before the war, it was maintained, would "result not only in a precarious England but in turn must lead to widespread distress in the whole realm of international primary production."

"No other solution is seen," the department said. "Than that the North American continent disposes itself to the import of goods on a scale far larger than ever before, while England makes every possible effort to take advantage of the opportunity thus afforded."

Estimates on Assets.

The department discussed Britain's overseas assets as one of the key buttresses to war effort.

"Before the war," it said, "the United Kingdom's long-term security investments abroad totaled about three and one-half billion pounds. If to this sum be added the estimated value of direct investments, British owned balances held abroad, etc., the value of these British overseas assets including gold holdings was in the neighborhood of five billion pounds.

"This vast array of overseas assets had played an indispensable part in the prewar economy of Great Britain and have stood England in good stead in the present war.

"Britain's total capital expenditure abroad during the first two years of the war can be estimated as aggregating a minimum of five billion dollars, to which may be added the ultimate loss of more than another billion investments in Germany and German occupied countries.

"An over-all estimate would indicate that less than one-fifth of the British gold and dollar resources at the beginning of the war are left unpledged or unliquidated, with payments of contracted for supplies before the passage of the lend-lease act still being made."

'WAR THREAT GREATER THAN IRISH REALIZE,' DE VALERA IS QUOTED

New York, Oct. 19 (AP).—The British radio said tonight that Irish Prime Minister Eamon de Valera, speaking of "the high probability of Ireland being involved in the war," warned his people today they did not realize the danger threatening them.

"The Irish people are not dealing merely with some vague possibility of war," he was quoted in a BBC broadcast heard in New York.

The British broadcast said De Valera appealed for recruits, explaining that the regular army had not yet reached full war footing.

"He said," it added, "that with the prospect of actual conflict, in which they would be fighting desperately for everything dear to them, there should be no complacency."

'COUSIN' EDWARD, DUCHESS, GREET A FEW SOLONS

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19 (AP).—The duke and duchess of Windsor paid a visit to the capitol today and held a reception in the rotunda for a dozen or so congressmen and their wives who had been hastily mobilized by telephone. Red Cross workers, who have a booth in the capitol, had expected the couple to call last Friday and had laid in roses and tea for the occasion but the duke and duchess did not show up.

The visit, intended to call attention to the Red Cross drive, was finally arranged today when the Windsors returned from a visit with friends in Warrenton, Va., and before they entrained for New York.

A bouquet of 48 roses, representing the 48 states, was presented to the duchess by Mrs. Nat Patton, wife of the Texas representative. And Patton himself saluted them both as "cousin," a salutation he also had bestowed on the duke's brother, King George VI., when the king and queen visited here.

Car Kills Girl; U.S. Soldier Gets Year in Newfoundland

ST. JOHN'S, Newfoundland, Oct. 19 (AP).—Private Earl Gilson of the United States military forces stationed in Newfoundland, was sentenced Saturday to a year in jail for manslaughter in connection with the death May 31 of 14 year old Maud Bragg, who was struck by a car driven by Gilson.

Bullet Victim Says He Fled Death Threats

A subtle campaign of terrorism by black hand methods was revealed last night as the reason Frank Zito, the state's star witness against Joe Montana Jr., west side gangster, fled police guards last Wednesday, the day Montana's trial was scheduled to be started.

Zito was found in Harrisburg, Saline county, and Assistant State's Attorney Richard Devine returned him to Chicago early yesterday. Zito was placed in the witness room at the state's attorney's office and the prosecutor indicated he will ask that trial be started today.

Shot and Left for Dead.

On July 25, Zito who is 26 years old, was taken for a ride, clubbed and shot twice thru his chest. He was left for dead in an alley behind 835 Garibaldi street, but attracted the attention of passersby.

Montana, now 36, shot and killed a police sergeant in 1923 and escaped conviction. Zito named him and three other hoodlums, who have eluded capture, as his assailants.

After Montana was indicted on a charge of assault to murder, Zito was placed in protective custody at state expense in the Hotel Sherman.

"We were taking good care of Zito," Devine said last night, "but we couldn't watch his wife all the time.

Threats Made to Wife.

"She's an expectant mother and the campaign of terrorism was directed against her. Zito tells me that strangers would bump her on the street, snarl 'Frank'll get his if he rats,' and then disappear.

"There were phone calls during the night and Zito says she was becoming hysterical."

Zito lives at 912 South Bell avenue and is a former inmate of the Illinois State Training School for Boys near St. Charles. He said he and Montana had quarreled over a still.

Indicted with Montana were Joe Esposito, Mike Grecco, and Rocco Iaculla.

Report Ski Clothes Seizure in Norway for Nazi Army

STOCKHOLM, Sweden, Oct. 19 (AP).—Dispatches from Norway said today that the German governor, Josef Terboven, had issued a decree requiring Norwegians to hand over all tents, windproof jackets, parkas, knapsacks, heavy sweaters, and ski pants to the German army. Violators face three years in prison and only the Arctic district north of Narvik is excepted. Heavy woolen blankets were commandeered recently.

NAZIS 57 MILES FROM MOSCOW, RUSSIA ADMITS

Fierce Fight Rages West of Capital.

MOSCOW, Oct. 20 [Monday] (AP).—Intense fighting 57 miles to the west and 65 miles to the southwest of Moscow [the closest the Russians have admitted the Germans have approached the capital] was reported in the soviet communique early today.

Arrows locate the points where fierce battles rage.

"Particularly stubborn battles took place in the Mozhaisk and Maloyaroslavets sectors," the official announcement said.

Mozhaisk is on the railroad running from Moscow to Vyazma, and is 57 miles west of the capital. Maloyaroslavets is on the railroad from Moscow to Bryansk. The town is about 65 miles southwest of the capital and 32 miles north of Kaluga.

[The Germans yesterday reported their troops had broken thru the strong defense system on the front before Moscow. Story on page 5.]

"State of Siege" Proclaimed.

"During Oct. 19 fighting continued along the whole front," the communique reported. "Fierce attacks by German Fascist [Nazi] troops were beaten off."

Premier Josef Stalin issued a decree proclaiming a state of siege [a form of martial law] in Moscow. The decree said the measure was taken "to assure the defense of Moscow and the strengthening of the rear ranks of forces defending Moscow as well as to halt the underground activities of spies, diversionists, and other agents of the German Fascists."

[A British broadcast heard in America, said the decree imposed a curfew between midnight and 5 a. m., banned movement of all vehicles except by special authorization during those hours, imposed the death sentence for sabotage and named commanders of the Moscow garrison.]

German forces pounding Moscow's defenses intensified their pressure over the week-end, pouring a steady stream of fresh reserves into the battle despite heavy losses, Russian dispatches stated.

Nazis Mass Tank Forces.

At Orel, 200 miles south of Moscow, the Germans were reported to have massed two tank divisions and several infantry regiments and then to have suffered severe losses in several battles with the Russians.

[A British radio broadcast heard in America declared that Leningrad forces of Marshal Voroshilov soon might go to the rescue of Marshal Timoshenko's central front troops in the region of Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow.]

On the southern front, Pravda [official communist party paper] correspondents reported, "the struggle for the Donetz basin and the Azov sea coast is becoming more acute every day, with the Nazi command drawing up fresh forces."

[All Moscow dispatches, such as this one received and distributed by the Associated Press, are now transmitted to the United States by official soviet agencies. All American correspondents have left Moscow with the American embassy staff.]

Rush Up Siberian Troops.

LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP).—Large numbers of Siberian and Mongolian troops are being rushed westward to reënforce the Red army defending embattled Moscow and some of these fresh fighters already are taking their places in the Mozhaisk sector, the soviet radio stated today.

Especially heavy fighting was reported raging near Mozhaisk and also near Kalinin, 95 miles northwest of Moscow. Earlier the Russians had announced launching a heavy counterattack at Kalinin.

Report of arrival of soviet reënforcements from Siberia and Mongolia prompted the conclusion here that the soviet union had decided to lay its heaviest stakes on the western line and scorn the Japanese threat in the far east.

Reliable sources called attention to the expressed determination on the part of Britain and the United States to deal firmly with Japan in the event her avowed pro-axis policy should provoke a far eastern crisis.

BISHOP, LAYMAN, AND 2 SENATORS BLAST WAR DRIVE

Protests against war propaganda, war mongering, and the Roosevelt administration's foreign policy were addressed to the nation yesterday and last night by an archbishop of the Roman Catholic church, a distinguished leader of Catholic laity, and two United States senators.

Speaking over a nation-wide radio network, the Most Rev. Francis J. L. Beckman, archbishop of Dubuque, Ia., assailed emphatically the deception, propaganda, and alliance with communism which he said threatens the existence of American democracy.

Speaks in Stronger Terms.

In stronger terms, Joseph Scott, California attorney and Knight Commander of St. Gregory, charged that Justice Frank Murphy of the United States Supreme court recently had abused an invitation of the Supreme convention of the Knights of Columbus to speak as "a mouthpiece of the White House."

United States Sen. Wayland Brooks [R., Ill.], speaking before the Illinois Republican Service Men's league at Springfield, denounced the administration's foreign policy, which he said was leading to a second AEF.

United States Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.], speaking in Oak Park, appealed to American citizens to avoid the destruction and waste of war by studying the lesson this nation learned in the last war.

Details of the protests follows:

APPEAL TO PRESIDENT

Appeals to the President, the American clergy, and religious laymen of the nation to help save the United States from the maelstrom of war were voiced yesterday by a high Roman Catholic churchman and a distinguished layman in a nation-wide radio broadcast.

Archbishop Beckman.

The appeal to the President and the clergy was made by the Most Rev. Francis J. L. Beckman, archbishop of Dubuque, Ia., speaking from Chicago. Joseph Scott, California attorney, Knight Commander of St. Gregory, Knight of Malta, and former chief executive of the Knights of Columbus in California, spoke from Los Angeles, Cal.

Calls Murphy a Mouthpiece.

Scott opened his address, an appeal against uniting with the forces of communism, by charging that Frank Murphy, associate justice of the United States Supreme court, recently spoke before the national convention of the Knights of Columbus as a "mouthpiece of the White House" in abuse of the invitation extended him by the order, which traditionally avoids any hint of partisan politics in its affairs.

"As I take Justice Murphy's speech, he wishes us to be in favor of 'all out' aid to Russia and makes the plea that Nazism is a greater evil than communism."

Scott said he holds no brief for Hitler, but asserted that the German people still are permitted to have the clergy with them and to attend mass. He then summarized the history of communist atrocities.

"The stark naked truth is that we

NORWEGIAN STEAMER SUNK BY U-BOAT; FEW OF 60 ABOARD SAVED

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (AP).—The 682 ton Norwegian mail steamer Vesteraalen was torpedoed and sunk off the Norwegian coast Friday "without warning by an enemy U-boat," according to a Norwegian Telegraph bureau report carried by DNB in an Oslo dispatch today.

The Norwegian agency was quoted as reporting that the vessel sank within a few minutes with more than 60 Norwegians. A few crew members and one passenger were said to have been rescued.

The vessel was said to have been clearly marked as a Norwegian coastal steamer used exclusively for civilian purposes, and not in the service of the German army.

The Norwegian government in exile in London called upon Norwegians Saturday to avoid travel on ships sailing the same waters as German transports. A statement said that a number of Norwegian passengers had gone down with German supply ships, and that "the Germans try to camouflage transports and supply ships as peaceful cargo and passenger vessels."

Congress Stirred

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—News of the apparent loss of life on the torpedoed destroyer Kearny created a stir among congress leaders tonight.

Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], noninterventionist leader said "the naval affairs committee of the senate should make a thoro investigation of the incident. Before passing judgment we should know whether the Kearny was torpedoed without warning, whether the Kearny was pursuing and attacking the submarine—in short all the details."

"This is the sort of incident that I have said all along it would take to arouse the American people to their danger," said Sen. Joseph F. Guffey [D., Pa.], member of the senate committee on foreign relations. He urged immediate declaration of war.

In Chicago, Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.], when informed that several men were missing from the torpedoed United States Destroyer Kearny, said: "Let's not lose our heads. After all, if the Kearny was operating as the Greer was operating, this thing, however tragic and sorrowful, is the very thing our course of action has been inviting."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—The navy department reported tonight that the United States destroyer Kearny, torpedoed last week 350 miles southwest of Iceland, reached an unnamed port today with 11 members of the crew missing and 10 injured, two of them seriously.

The department stated that the attack on the Kearny undoubtedly was made by a German submarine. This was the first time the navy had issued a statement placing so directly upon Germany the blame for an attack on an American vessel. The German government has issued no statement.

Altho only meager details of the incident were vouchsafed by the navy department the fact that 11 members of the crew are missing testified to the serious damage suffered by the destroyer which apparently made port with the greatest difficulty. The 1,630 ton Kearny which cost 5 million dollars, was one of the newest and most powerful of United States destroyers.

Victims of Undeclared War.

The indications are that the lives of 11 men of the United States navy were lost in this clash with a German submarine, the first victims of the undeclared war with Germany in which America is becoming involved. The attack took place within a blockade zone proclaimed by the German government which however is not recognized as an effective blockade by the United States.

The navy's statement contained for the first time since the European war started, the phrase, "the next of kin have been notified."

The serious character of the incident revealed by the list of missing and seriously injured is expected to figure conspicuously in the consideration of the administration's measure for the arming of merchantmen passed last week by the house and scheduled for action by the senate this week. With interventionists proposing to move as an amendment the outright repeal of the neutrality act, the measure is to be taken up by the senate foreign relations committee at a special meeting tomorrow.

The Navy's Statement.

The navy department's statement on the Kearny follows:

"The navy department today announced that U. S. S. Kearny, destroyer attacked by a submarine, undoubtedly German, early Friday morning, has reached port.

"Dispatches received from the ship report 11 members of the crew missing, one man critically injured, one man seriously injured and eight men who received minor injuries, but who are in no danger.

"The missing men are:

SAVE CHILDREN STARVED BY WAR, HOOVER PLEADS

Civilized World Urged to Co-operate.

15 times the normal rate and that the municipal newspaper was appealing to the people not to throw corpses in the streets.

He quoted the report as revealing that the death rate among children was 10 times the birth rate.

Prospect Even Worse.

"I have no desire to repeat horrors beyond indicating the situation," Hoover continued. "The situation during the forthcoming winter over Europe will be far worse even than last winter and spring."

PART III.—PLEAS FOR HELP

Hoover told of the appeal by peoples in the war torn countries and their exiled government officials which was made to him and his colleagues because they had found a solution to the problem in 1914. He told of the proposals made to solve the new problem and the opposition to them expressed by the British. Even the American government took no action, so far as he could learn, in response to his pleas, Hoover said.

PART IV.—THE METHODS

"The natural fear of many people," Hoover said, "is that this food would benefit Hitler. The whole basis of our proposals is that the Germans cease to take food from the countries put under relief. And moreover, that they themselves furnish from their own stocks the breadstuffs needed. Their coöperation thus takes food from them, not to them.

"There are others who do not see how this process can be controled even if agreed to. I and 300 living Americans know this can be done for we did it 20 years ago. I will explain again and use our recent proposal for an experiment in Belgium as an example.

"The food from overseas is to be paid for by the Belgians, and the funds are available. It is to be brought in ships not otherwise available to supply Britain. It would be shipped over the frontier to central warehouses. These warehouses are to be under neutral control.

Soup Kitchens Planned.

"From the warehouses smaller shipments are made directly to soup kitchens. They are notified of every shipment. These kitchens are operated by Belgian women. Every child or its mother who receives food must come to the soup kitchen and eat it on the spot.

"Those who get it must produce tickets issued by other committees of Belgian women based upon need. None but Belgians are given tickets.

"The supreme anxiety of every Belgian woman is that no food should escape from the children of their race. If there is any failure of food to arrive anywhere it is instantly reported to the neutral supervisors.

"Part of this plan is that the German army should take no food from Belgium, either native or imported. It is only Belgian farmers who grow food. If it is taken by a German it is taken from a Belgian and the Belgians know it. They report it at once to the neutral commission."

PART V.—THE PROPAGANDA

But entirely apart from these fears, Hoover charged, a vast organized propaganda of misrepresentation was spread over the United States and Britain. He said he could speak with great bitterness of this but would say only that his national committee embraces 1,000 leaders of every religious faith, Democrats and Republicans, interventionists and nonintervention-ists, and that there is no politics "in this appeal for the lives of children."

He told of other fantastic statements spread across the country by foreign propaganda. One of them, he said, was that the Germans would seize breadstuffs and make from them alcohol which they would use to propel airplanes, altho it never has been proposed that a pound of breadstuffs be imported.

"There are those who say that decision having been taken against these proposals by the British government, we should no longer agitate it," Hoover said. "When has free speech departed? The British people do not hesitate to differ on policies of their government. But more important, this is not solely a British question. It concerns a dozen democracies, including ourselves.

"I would like to ask those who have opposed these proposals: Is the allied cause any further advanced today as a consequence of this starvation of children? Are Hitler's armies any less victorious than if these children had been saved? Are Britain's children better fed today because these millions of former allied children have been hungry or died? Can you point to one benefit that has been gained from this holocaust?"

PART VI.—THE BLOCKADE

Hoover said the British themselves have relaxed the blockade in important ways, one of which was to furnish food to some 40,000 British prisoners of war in Germany.

The British government trusts the German government to distribute this British food, he said, and British officials say it is distributed with fidelity.

He said the blockade also had been relaxed for Sweden to permit needed supplies from American ports thru to that country. By what logic or humanity, he asked, can neutrals be given supplies while peoples who have fought and died in the allied cause are discriminated against?

The blockade also has been relaxed for Greece, he continued, the Turkish government agreeing to large shipments to save the Greeks. In this project, which will be partly paid for by Americans, coöperation from both Britain and Germany has been obtained, he asserted.

PART VII.—RESPONSIBILITY

"The dead children of last winter and spring are gone," Hoover said. "Whatever our bitterness may be for their sacrifice, they are beyond help. Our problem now is to look to saving the millions of others. That can be done if the Americans, the British, the Germans, and the neutral governments of Europe will cooperate."

He told the German people to remember that he had fed German people after the World war, urged the British government, exiled governments of small democracies, and neutral governments to heed the pitiful appeals of starving children.

"I can say to the American government: You are now in such relationship to this war that you have a right to a voice. What is more, you are contributing to the blockade of these small democracies. And deny it if you will, there is some moral responsibility attached to America now. It is not enough to plead international law.

"I agree Germany has the moral responsibility to feed them. There is a vague legal responsibility. But the overpowering fact is Germany does not, as the result of the blockade, have the kind of food needed for these women and children. And these helpless people cannot eat morals and international law."

PART VIII.—MILITARY EFFECT

"I do not believe," Hoover said, "that it would make the slightest difference in the military outcome of this war if we assured food to the needy among the whole 40 million democratic children of Europe. The Germans will not lose this war from a shortage of food. And eminent soldiers agree with me."

UNDERFED YOUTH BIGGEST FRENCH FOOD PROBLEM

VICHY, France, Oct. 19.—The gravest aspect of the food situation in France is the underfed condition of French youth, Minister of Agriculture Pierre Caziot declared today in a broadcast to the French peasantry. All studies of the health services, he said, show the extremely dangerous consequences of undernourishment for children and for adolescents between the ages of 16 and 20. The majority of such adolescents, he declared, had lost weight in the last school year.

"If this undernourishment continues," said Caziot, "it will cause grave risks for the future of the French race. And it is therefore of the children and young people that we should think first in our endeavors to remedy the situation."

Caziot drew attention to another danger which could result from failure of the peasants to produce more food.

"Who would be safe from the disorders that would result from famine?" he asked. "How could we maintain order in a famished country and prevent persons as well as the most modest property from being threatened?"

SHREWD BUYING SAVES $300,000 ON N. U. BUILDING

Northwestern university's new technological institute, now nearing completion, will cost $300,000 less than planned, it was announced yesterday.

R. C. Wieboldt, head of the contracting firm in charge of the construction, effected the saving thru a long range buying program of materials that subsequently rose in price, according to the university president, Franklyn Bliss Snyder.

Original specifications called for the expenditure of $5,350,000, but Wieboldt, a trustee of the university, pared it to $5,050,000. President Snyder said the saving will be spent on expanding the buildings.

DIES LISTS 1,124 WITH RED TINGE IN U. S. SERVICE

Blames New Influx on War Aid to Russia.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Asserting the Roosevelt policy of all-out aid for soviet Russia is facilitating the communist program to overthrow the American form of government, Rep. Martin Dies [D., Tex.], chairman of the house committee investigating un-American activities, transmitted to Attorney General Francis Biddle today the names of 1,124 government employés who are affiliated with subversive organizations.

Martin Dies.

In effect, the chairman of the committee that has unearthed the underground plottings of the communists against the United States challenged the attorney general to initiate proceedings that will compel the discharge of the disloyalists harbored on government pay rolls by the Roosevelt administration.

Challenge Repeatedly Ignored.

This challenge has been made by Dies repeatedly and invariably ignored by the President, who, together with Mrs. Roosevelt, has sought to discredit the house investigation of subversive activities.

Mr. Dies submitted a classification of the subversive officials and employés by government agencies which he said would show "at a glance how completely the communists, their fellow travelers, and their sympathizers have permeated the entire structure of the federal government."

The largest number of subversive employés found in the various agencies was listed as 207 in the department of agriculture, 145 in the federal security agency, and 98 in the department of labor.

Distribution of Employés.

The list's distribution of subversive employés by agencies follows:

Department of agriculture	207
Federal security agency	145
Department of labor	98
Federal Works agency	72
Department of commerce	70
Treasury department	56
National Labor Relations board	49
District of Columbia government	46
War department	45
Department of interior	45
Securities and Exchange commission	44
Navy department	40
Railroad Retirement board	27
Library of congress	25
Department of justice	20
Federal Loan agency	19
Veterans' administration	15
Civil Service commission	13
State department	12
Government printing office	11
Interstate Commerce commission	10
Executive office of the President	8
Federal reserve system	7
General accounting office	6
Tariff commission	6
Federal Power commission	5
National archives	4
Maritime Labor board	3
Board of tax appeals	2
Employés' Compensation commission	2
Federal Communications commission	2
Postoffice department	2
Bituminous coal consumers' counsel	1
Federal Trade commission	1
Maritime commission	1
National Capitol Park and Planning commission	1
National resources	1

Termed New Red Front.

"The evidence which I am submitting to you, Mr. Attorney General," wrote Dies, "indicates that there is a new influx of subversive elements into official Washington. It must, of course, be apparent to all that our present foreign policy of all-out aid to Russia is one that makes it very easy for communists and their sympathizers to pose as the most ardent patriots. The very grave danger exists that our government, by its aid to Russia on the eastern front, has opened up for Stalin a new western front right here in the capital of America. I trust, therefore, that your investigation will be both thoro and prompt, and then followed up by appropriate action.

"In closing, I wish to pass on to you, Mr. Attorney General, the view that comes to me from all parts of America: The retention on the federal pay roll of several thousand persons who, to put the matter mildly, have strong leanings toward Moscow will confirm the widely held suspicion that a large and influential sector of official Washington is utilizing the present national emergency as a means for undermining the American system of democratic government."

Altho transmitting to the attorney general the names of the communistic government employés, Dies did not make them public pending action by the attorney general to procure their separation from the public pay roll. The intimation was that if the attorney general fails to act the names will be published.

"Without exception," said Mr. Dies, "the evidence upon which this list has been compiled is taken from original documents. These documents are available for the inspection and study of your agents, just as they have been available to all agents of the federal government for the last three years.

Executives in List.

"By way of further comment upon the seriousness of the problem which faces your department in its investigation of those who have allowed themselves to become the tools of subversive organizations, may I point out that the accompanying list of more than 1,000 federal government employés is not composed solely of those who are employed at clerical jobs of a more or less routine nature. The list includes a large number of those who are in executive or policy-making positions."

In substantiation of this statement the committee chairman submitted the following:

Five persons receive salaries of $10,000 or more a year, eight receive $9,000, seven receive $8,000, 24 receive $7,000, 25 receive $6,000, 55 receive $5,000, 96 receive $4,000, and 153 receive $3,000 a year.

Mr. Dies wrote in response to the attorney general's request for the names of subversive employés.

1939 List Recalled.

"Two years ago," he said, "our committee made public a list of 563 federal government employés who were found to be members of the American League for Peace and Democracy—one of the front organizations of the communist party. I note that the authorization and the appropriation under which you are now proceeding are the direct outcome of our committee's publication of that list.

"At this time I am submitting to you the names, addresses, titles, salaries, and records of affiliation with subversive organizations of 1,124 employés of the federal government. This list has been compiled with strict reference to your request for information which bears upon the membership of these government employés in subversive organizations.

Far from Complete, Says Dies.

"The list is far from complete, but I assure you that I will be glad to transmit to you as rapidly as possible the many additional names of government employés who, according to the records of our committee, have been involved in one way or another with the activities of subversive organizations.

"You will note that no names of employés in any of the newly created defense agencies have been included in the accompanying list. That is due to the fact that our committee is still at work on its investigation of employés in these agencies.

"A partial compilation of evidence bearing upon the subversive activities and connections of certain employés in the office of price administration was sent to the President early in September. I presume that your department has received that evidence from the White House."

STORY OF DICTATED NAZI BIRTHS IS SHOCK TO MRS. ROOSEVELT

Boston, Mass., Oct. 19 (AP).—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in a radio broadcast said tonight a news story she read recently, which said that German girls were told it was their duty to have children by German soldiers regardless of whether they were married, took her breath away.

Mrs. Roosevelt quoted from an article she said she saw in the New York Times which stated: "A girl evading her duty is a traitor just like a soldier deserting his flag. For pure blooded German girls there exists a war duty outside marriage and which has nothing to do with marriage."

Mrs. Roosevelt added that a Quaker friend, just returned from Europe, told her he was troubled by cruelty shown by German girls brought to France to work "and when I read articles such as the one quoted above, I can well understand that when duty to your country does violence to your natural inclination and your moral standards it becomes fanaticism and leaves no room for gentleness and pity in the hearts of German women."

RAF GUNS RADIOS AND AIRPORTS IN 2 FRENCH PORTS

LONDON, Oct. 19 (AP).—RAF fighters swooped low over Cherbourg and Boulogne today and machine gunned airdromes and radio stations, the air ministry announced tonight. Squadrons of Hurricanes roared across the channel in the attacks on those two ports and on Dieppe, but encountered no German fighters.

Nazis Fire British Ports.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (AP).—Large fires were set in air attacks on Great Yarmouth and harbors on the southeast English coast last night, Germans said today. British planes did not get into German territory, the high command added.

OPPONENT SAYS LA GUARDIA HAS $1,000,000 FUND

New York, Oct. 19 [Special].—Charles E. Murphy, campaign manager for District Attorney William O'Dwyer of Brooklyn, Democratic mayoralty candidate, and his running mates, charged today that political opponents were spending a million dollars to defeat O'Dwyer and reëlect Mayor Fiorello La Guardia to a third term "in a desperate attempt to remain in power at city hall."

"In a losing fight, marked by disunity and dissension in the political, citizens', and nonpartisan groups allegedly supporting the mayor, purse strings have been opened by some political Midas and campaign funds by the hundreds of thousands of dollars are being spent," Murphy said in a statement issued at Democratic campaign headquarters.

Murphy declared that this expenditure of money showed that the forces supporting the La Guardia administration were "on the run." The Jewish Ministers' Association of America, representing 94 Orthodox Jewish organizations here, indorsed O'Dwyer, according to an announcement by Morris J. Solomon, chairman of the Brooklyn Independent Citizens' committee for O'Dwyer.

ILLINOIS BOY 'MISSING'

Gillespie, Ill., Oct. 19 [Special].—George Alexander Calvert Jr., among the crew members reported missing from the torpedoed United States destroyer Kearny, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Alexander Calvert Sr., who live on a dairy farm five and a half miles southwest of here.

Young Calvert, who is 23 years old, has been in the navy for five years and has been a member of the Kearny's crew ever since that vessel was launched. His parents last heard from him, they said, in September in a letter which had been censored. The Calvert family includes six other sons and four daughters.

[Reactions of the families of other missing members of the destroyer Kearny's crew were revealed in the following Associated Press roundup from various parts of the country.]

"I'm going to keep hoping he's alive," Fireman Ira Young of the Reader, Ark., railroad said when informed that his son, Machinist Mate Harry Tull Young, 27, was one of the 11 crew members reported missing from the Destroyer Kearny. His son, a high school graduate, enlisted in the navy in 1936 and went aboard the Kearny when it was launched a year ago.

His father said Young was married, his wife living at Norfolk, Va.

Fireman Sidney Larriviere is the son of Mrs. Norbert Larriviere, a widow, who lives on a farm near Lafayette, La. Larriviere, 25 years old, had served a previous four year enlistment in the navy, and stayed in Lafayette for eight months before reënlisting six months ago. He was a graduate of Youngsville High school. He has a married sister and three half-brothers.

At Bainbridge, Ga., the parents of Dwight Floyd Pyle, said he enlisted at Albany, Ga., five months ago. Before enlisting he made his home with his father, A. Pyle, bowling alley operator, and his stepmother.

Luther Azle Curtis is a native of Wilmington, N. C., whose parents died 20 years ago. An uncle in Wilmington, J. H. Curtis, said he had joined the navy 15 years ago. A brother, Warwick Curtis of Tiffin, O., and another uncle, Joe W. Curtis of Wilmington, are his only survivors.

Installs Machinery in Ship.

Friends at Troy, N. Y., recalled Herman A. C. Gajeway as having assisted in installing machinery in the Kearny. Gajeway, a native of Troy, where he resided with his brother, Dr. Charles Gajeway, enlisted in the navy seven years ago.

Russell B. Wade, 20, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Amon Wade of Tiny Houston, Ala. He attended Pleasant Hill Grammar school and Meek High school, the latter for two years. He enlisted in the navy at Florence, Ala., last October.

Fireman Stoltz, 36, is the son of Mrs. Mary Gray Stoltz, a widow, living on a farm near Spangler, 35 miles from Johnstown, Pa. On the date the Kearny was torpedoed Mrs. Stoltz received a letter from him saying he was "well and happy." When the torpedoing was announced, Mrs. Stoltz feared for his life and tonight she was hysterical.

But for a last minute change in orders, Louis Dobniker's brother, Frank, would have been aboard the Kearny, his mother, Mrs. Jennie Dobnikar, said in Cleveland tonight. All three of her sons are navy men and are contributing to her support. Frank, who is 28, was to have boarded the Kearny but instead was sent to an electrical engineering school at the navy yard in Washington.

J. I. Lafleur of Beaumont, Tex., said his son, Lloyd D. Lafleur, 21 years old, enlisted five years ago and planned to make the navy his life's work. Lafleur said he had given up hope of ever seeing his son again. He was married in Philadelphia last June to Catherine Bendele, 20, who said she had not seen him since early in August when the Kearny docked in New York.

Torpedoman Kurtz, who was critically hurt, was born in Erie, Pa., and attended high school at Sherman, N. Y. He is one of seven children of Mrs. Ida Weed who lives on a farm six miles from Erie. Kurtz joined the navy in 1940. Friends termed him "a bug on military training."

At the foot of the candle it is DARK!—

SO said the Persians, centuries ago. No man can yet foresee exactly what lies ahead as his own candle of life burns lower.

But, by joining forces with many others, a light goes on burning for those you would protect—even if your own light sputters and fails.

NAZIS CLAIM NEW BREAK THRU ON MOSCOW FRONT

Capture City Near Rostov on Sea of Azov.

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (AP).—German troops have broken thru the "especially strong" soviet defense system on the front before Moscow, the Germans reported tonight. They also announced the capture of the important port of Taganrog on the southern front.

Arrow locates port captured by Germans.

Fierce soviet counterattacks failed to dent the wedge the Germans drove into the Moscow line and Nazi troops are holding their positions there, DNB, the official news agency, reported. Dispatches from the front indicated, but did not say specifically, that the breach was in the outer ring of defenses about Moscow itself.

The Germans were said to have pierced the soviet defense at several points. Eighteen soviet tanks were reported destroyed and two groups of Russian troops encircled and wiped out in the fighting. DNB reported 7,000 prisoners were taken in the action.

Near Gateway of Caucasus.

"Numerous" Russian attacks were reported beaten off on the northern front. In the south, DNB said, Russian troops were being pursued along the whole Ukraine front after bitter fighting.

Capture of Taganrog, on the Sea of Azov, put the Germans within 30 miles of Rostov, gateway to the Caucasian oilfields. The town was said to have been taken by picked SS [élite] guard troops after a house to house fight with the Russians, whose stubborn defense of the coastal area of Ukraine had left a bloody trail reaching eastward from Odessa.

Marshal Ion Antonescu, of Rumania today decreed the incorporation of Odessa into the Rumanian administrative district east of the Dniester river, DNB said.

Destroy Arms Near Kharkov.

North of this area, German planes were reported to have destroyed ammunition stores and artillery emplacements in the region about Kharkov, the heart of the Donetz industrial basin.

The high command issued this terse report on the fight for Taganrog:

"Between the Sea of Azov and the Donetz basin, pursuit of the beaten enemy is being continued successfully. Units of SS troops in house and street fighting have taken the harbor and town of Taganrog."

The SS troops originated as blackshirt troops serving as a personal bodyguard for Adolf Hitler. Later a militarized section was organized in which picked men ordinarily bound themselves for 10 years of service, but lately volunteers have been accepted for the duration of the emergency.

The task assigned to them on the extreme southern wing of the long Russian front has been to cut the rich Ukraine, with its vital Donetz iron and coal basin, from the Black sea.

With the capture of Taganrog, German troops reached the strategically important railway line from Rostov and Kharkov in the heart of the Donetz basin.

German dispatches from the Moscow area told of air activity and one soviet counterattack of some force near Kalinin.

[Following roundabout reports on Saturday that the Russians had retaken Kalinin and Orel a German radio broadcast carried an official announcement that they remained in German hands. Orel is about 200 miles south of Moscow and Kalinin 95 miles northwest.]

ADM. BYRD. SAYS U. S. IS "UNCONQUERABLE"; WON'T LET HITLER WIN

Boston, Mass., Oct. 19 (AP).—Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd told the French people today in a short wave radio broadcast that "Adolf Hitler will not win unless he attacks and defeats the United States."

Byrd, who flew to France in 1927 and was honored as a "citizen" of four of her towns, addressed his audience as "fellow citizens of France" in a speech over WRUL, powerful Boston station.

"I know that courage and hope still flame bright in your breasts," he declared. "The war is not over. It is not ended in Russia. She is still holding. No one can say whether she will continue to hold and for how long."

But, the explorer asserted, "because America is unconquerable Adolf Hitler will not win this war.

"The day will come when the skies of Europe will be black with American planes—the most effective aircraft that have yet been devised."

ROOSEVELT GETS FIRST REPORT ON MISSION TO REDS

Confers with Harriman Tomorrow.

BY WALTER TROHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hyde Park, N. Y., Oct. 19.—President Roosevelt today received a second hand report on the plight and needs of Russia and his effort to secure a guarantee of religious freedom from the soviets.

Harry Hopkins, generalissimo of aid to nations at war with the axis powers, made the report after his return from a motor trip to Arden, N. Y., where he had spent the night at the home of W. Averell Harriman, head of the American aid commission to Moscow, who arrived in this country yesterday from London on a bombing plane.

To Confer with President.

During his visit with Harriman, Hopkins arranged a conference with the President for the former railroad executive for Tuesday. At this conference Harriman will deliver his report in detail. The report is expected to deal with two major points, whether lend-lease aid shall be extended to Russia and the question of religious freedom in that country.

After receiving Hopkins' report it was reported that Mr. Roosevelt conferred by telephone with Myron C. Taylor, his personal ambassador to the Vatican, who is reputed to have sounded out the Vatican on support of the Red cause in return for a soviet pledge of religious freedom.

The President had considered returning to Washington tomorrow morning, but when bright sunshine succeeded yesterday's chill autumnal drizzle, he decided to spend one more day at his family home.

Will See Lend-Lease Aid.

Mr. Roosevelt's guests at the summer White House included Crown Princess Martha of Norway, Hopkins, and the President's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger of Seattle. Princess Martha, who has been a frequent guest at Hyde Park, accompanied the President on an automobile drive about the estate.

The President will leave here tomorrow night and reach the White House Tuesday morning for his conference with Harriman and another with John D. Biggers, who returned Friday from London where he was in charge of lend-lease aid to Britain.

INSIST GERMANY NEVER CAN NEAR U. S. PRODUCTION

Even tho Germany has converted her economy totally to production of war materials, she never can equal the potential capacity of the United States, in the opinion of three economists who spoke yesterday on the University of Chicago Round Table broadcast.

They are Peter F. Drucker, professor of economics at Sarah Lawrence college and an expert on German finance; Dal Hitchcock of the United States Bureau of Labor Statistics, and Raymond Sulnier, professor of economics at Barnard college, Columbia university.

The United States has twice Germany's steel capacity and five times Germany's automobile capacity, they said. Attention also was drawn to Europe's food shortages and the food abundance in this country.

Vice President of Peru Reaches Here on U. S. Tour

Rafel Larco-Herrera, vice president of Peru, arrived at the Chicago airport early this morning after a flight from San Francisco. Accompanied by Capt. Albert P. Ebright of the United States army, the Peruvian statesman is making a tour of American cities to study the armament program. He will stay at the Blackstone hotel.

CAN'T BUY PEACE AT SACRIFICE OF OTHERS—WALKER

Cabinet Member Calls for Charitable View.

Houston, Tex., Oct. 19 (AP).—Postmaster General Frank C. Walker, addressing the National Conference of Catholic Charities, said today "We of America cannot—we shall not—seek a peace purchased at the sacrifice of the hopes, the ambitions, the freedom of others."

Americans and Catholics, he asserted, could not say of the European war: "This is no affair of ours."

"True charity tells us it is not American, it is not Catholic," Walker said.

Poses Rhetorical Question.

The postmaster general did not suggest precisely what he felt Americans should do, but, speaking of "the conqueror," he posed this rhetorical question:

"Must we wait until he has conquered the remaining populations on the earth before we comprehend our duty to our fellowmen?"

Walker said "We cannot act the part of charity and refuse to see or hear the sufferings of those victims of a monster's desire to uproot and forever destroy by force every decent quality, ideal, and belief thruout the world.

"Most Critical Time."

"We cannot have charity in our hearts and insist that this war which has involved three-quarters of the earth's surface is no concern of ours.

"Here in our own country in the most critical time in our history, indeed in the gravest hour for civilization, there are those who stir up unrest, enkindling in our own nation racial and religious hatred.

"Are not these few, protected by the very rights and the very freedoms that are being destroyed thruout the world, playing directly into the hands of the assassins of civilization . . . ?"

Walker, principal speaker on the opening program of the conference, said organized charity "always must be a part of our national life."

LONG SAYS GERMANS CALL ON ITALY FOR MILLION MORE MEN

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 19 (AP).—Breckinridge Long, assistant secretary of state, asserted today that Germany had asked Italy to send 1,000,000 soldiers into Russia, France, and Jugo-Slavia to relieve German troops, and suggested that if this were done the Nazis would then launch an attack on Italy itself.

"The examples of Belgium and Holland, of Norway, of Poland, of Rumania—in short the recent experiences of Europe—give plenty of ground for fear by the Italian people," he declared, "that if they send their soldiers away they bare their breasts to an attack from so-called 'friends and allies'."

Long's address, before a gathering of 125 Italian-American societies, was broadcast by short wave stations beamed to Europe and rebroadcast in Italian, Spanish, and Portuguese translations.

Long asserted that Italian policy had been to maintain a buffer state between herself and Germany, but that the Nazis now were sitting at Brenner Pass, "right on the doorstep of the Italians."

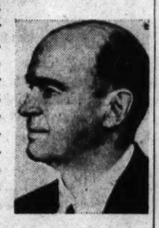
DAY CHALLENGES F.D.R. SCHEME OF WORLD EMPIRE

Urges Citizens to Employ Power of Petition.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Declaring President Roosevelt's plan of Anglo-American world empire unconstitutional, Stephen A. Day, Republican representative at large from Illinois, today proposed a nation-wide petition to the chief executive to abandon an illegal course.



Rep. Stephen A. Day.

"All of the powers granted to the three great coördinate branches of the federal government—executive, legislative, and judicial departments—by the people in the formation of this republic, separately and collectively, did not contemplate a scheme of world empire such as outlined by President Roosevelt with his arsenal of democracy, the four freedoms, and the unlimited supplying of billions upon billions of dollars outside of the territorial limits of the United States," said Rep. Day.

"This scheme of world empire is clearly set forth in the joint declaration of President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill executed in their celebrated conferences at sea, containing eight points, and transmitted by the President to the congress on Aug. 21, 1941.

Not Submitted to Congress.

"The extraconstitutional character of this agreement is confirmed by the fact that the President did not call upon either the senate or the house of representatives to take any action with reference thereto."

This declaration purported to commit the United States to a program of conquering and disarming the totalitarian powers and thereafter policing the world.

Rep. Day pointed out that the reserved powers of the constitution are delegated to the states or the people.

"To give expression to these reserved powers," said the congressman, "the first amendment was adopted, guaranteeing to the people the right 'peaceably to assemble and to petition the government for a redress of grievances.'

"No matter what may be the division of powers under the constitution, no branch of the government can exercise powers of greater authority than comes from the source of all powers in this republic, the people themselves.

"I, therefore, recommend that giant petitions authorized by the first amendment be signed and sent to the President calling his attention to the fact that his scheme of world empire is not authorized by the constitution of the United States; that there is no warrant of authority for any constitutional officer or any department of the government, or all of them combined, to abandon the comprehensive scope and limitations of the constitution and to forsake our republic for a scheme of world empire.

Day Cites the Preamble.

"In conclusion, we must be mindful at all times of the wording of the preamble to the constitution and the specific statement in the form of a limitation that the people established a union and a constitution "for the United States of America," and for nothing else, in these immortal words:

"'We, the people of the United States, in order to form a more perfect union, establish justice, insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare, and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity, do ordain and establish this constitution for the United States of America.'

"It is high time that the people express, in this giant petition for a redress of grievances, their determination that the government of the people, for the people, and by the people shall not perish from the earth. The President must be reminded that he has no power or authority beyond the limits of the people's constitution."

PESHAWAR, Northwest Frontier Province, India, Oct. 19 (AP).—The Afghanistan radio at Kabul, the capital, announced today the expulsion of German and Italian nationals from that rough and primitive country, a natural gateway between German invaded Russia and India and only gap in the 2,000 mile political and military front the British are building across southwestern Asia.

King Zahir.

The broadcast, as heard here, said the government of King Mohammed Zahir, shah of Afghanistan, had accepted the offer of the British government to give safe conduct to the Germans and Italians by way of India, or Iraq and Turkey, to their respective countries.

It added that parliament had indorsed the expulsion and that the German and Italian legations had expressed agreement with the arrangement.

ABOUT 200 IN COUNTRY.

The number and occupations of axis nationals in Afghanistan were not disclosed officially, but some sources said there were fewer than 200, with only about 90 German males.

Except in the event of a German penetration beyond the Ural mountains in Russia Afghanistan would appear to have little interest to the British other than to see that it is free of agitators who might stir up the wild mountain tribesmen along India's northwestern frontier.

The country has no railroads or navigable rivers and few roads. Be navigable rivers and few roads.

For some decades the country was a scene of rivalry between British and Russians, and following the bolshevist revolution the steady penetration of soviet influence for a few years alarmed the British who feared an effort to spread communist propaganda among Indian nationalists.

The population of Afghanistan is about 10,000,000, mostly Moslem, and the peacetime strength of its army is about 60,000.

Its mineral resources of oil, iron, coal, silver, lead, and copper are largely undeveloped. Fruits, cereals, and vegetables are grown, but its chief exports are wool, skins, carpets, and spices.

Don't Let Reds Down! Attack in West! British Workers Urge

BY LARRY RUE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Oct. 20 [Monday].—What the British press described as one of the greatest working class demonstrations since the war began was held in London yesterday. More than 1,000 shop stewards, representing half a million arms workers in 300 key workshops, voted unanimously to wire Prime Minister Winston Churchill, demanding immediate opening of a western front against Germany to relieve the strain on Moscow.

The shop stewards pledged themselves to continue their efforts "to increase production to the degree that will guarantee both the maintenance of such a front and material aid to Russia." The meeting, it is understood, was banned officially by the Amalgamated Engineering union's executive council and frowned upon by national trades union officials.

Speed! Is the Theme.

The constant theme thruout the discussion was said to have been "Britain and Russia must sink or swim together. Speed, speed, speed!"

The chief speaker was Walter Swanson of the airplane engine works of D. Napier & Son, Ltd., who said, "We must end now all illusions that others have the duty of doing all the dying and fighting while we in Britain aren't called upon to make such gigantic sacrifices."

Swanson warned that "factories are seething with the suspicion that the government is letting Russia down, or that the presence of the Halifaxes, Moore-Brabazons, and Margessons is the reason why there is no second front," adding, "We warn that government workers will never allow them to let Russia down."

[Lord Halifax is British ambassador to the United States; J. T. C. Moore-Brabazon is British minister for aircraft production, and David Margesson is the British secretary of state for war.]

Another "aid to Russia" meeting was held by 1,500 women [with a sprinkling of men] who crammed the Phoenix theater in London yesterday. Mme. Maisky, wife of the Russian ambassador, was on the platform.

Among the speakers was Miss Hilde Marchant, writer for Minister of Supply Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express, who said, "The only assistance this meeting can send is tanks, planes, and guns. Beaverbrook's pledge [to Russia] was from the women of this country more than the men. Sixty per cent of production in 'Tanks for Russia' week was done by the women of this country. It must go up to 70 per cent—even higher!"

Cabinet Changes Hinted.

The popular demand for aid to Russia is reflected in the house of commons where there still is a strong demand for military action. THE TRIBUNE was told by a reliable informant today that a complete cabinet shakeup is likely to follow any further serious reverses for the Russians.

Members of parliament are said to be planning to ask Churchill to reconstruct the cabinet, keeping probably only Lord Beaverbrook and Ernest Bevin, minister of labor and national service.

Many of Britain's newspapers have joined in proposing military action. The Sunday Pictorial says that no one is "mad enough to demand that a million men should be sent to invade the continent without proper equipment," but insists that "there is no satisfaction with the assurance that all the British empire can do to help Russia is fiddle around with a few bombers over western Germany."

Large Scale Raids Suggested.

It maintains that Britain is "equipped for large scale raids from Norway to Bordeaux . . . in the middle east for starting an expeditionary force that would challenge the advancing Nazis around the Russian oil fields."

"We could send our allies a thousand bombers and a thousand fighters [planes] where they are the most dangerous, and we could smite Italy from the land, sea, and air," the Pictorial continues.

Aneurin Bevan, Trades Union congress leader and member of parliament, writes in the weekly Tribune: "We now have the greatest opportunity we have yet had to attack the Nazis in the west. The government says we haven't the materials. If we haven't, the government has failed in its duty; an angry public will want to know why, and the government may well be swept aside."

Beaverbrook's Daily Express demands to know why Berlin is not being bombed despite promises to do so. It states that four weeks have passed since the last attack on the German capital.

RENEWAL OF AXIS RAIDS HINTS BIG DRIVE ON TOBRUK

Besieged British Forces Reported Ready.

BY SAM BREWER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]
(Pictures on back page.)

CAIRO, Egypt, Oct. 19.—German and Italian activity around besieged Tobruk, Libya, has become so much livelier recently that there is a strong suspicion that the axis forces are trying to find out whether it would be possible to carry out an attack to end the constant irritation of raids on their lines by members of the besieged British garrison.

The British strength in the desert has been growing fast. Military men here believe Gen. Erwin Rommel, the German commander, is becoming uneasy over the steady flow of arms, men, and machines into the British camp. They also think he is toying with the idea of making a smashing blow against Tobruk to force the British to divert strength there and also to upset their timing by forcing a general fight in the desert before the British are ready for it—or before he thinks they are ready.

Front Somnolent All Summer.

Thru the long, hot summer the Libyan frontier and Tobruk have been in a state where, if any communique was issued at all, the capture of two or three prisoners was enough to occupy the whole account.

Last April Britain's enemies thought Tobruk was in their grasp. Then they found themselves stopped and during the summer the axis forces actually have been on the defensive. They have confined their efforts to defense against the daring British hit-and-run raids in the darkness.

The first sign of renewed activity was along the frontier a little more than a month ago when the Germans and Italians sent over a powerful scouting force of two columns, totaling 120 tanks and armored cars. The British thought at first it was the beginning of a serious push, but they repulsed the enemy and destroyed 10 tanks and 15 trucks without losing a single armored car.

In the last couple of weeks the enemy began to take a keen interest in Tobruk and its defenses, so keen that even Italian patrols are found prowling about outside the famous "perimeter" or semicircle of defenses.

Nazi Tanks Prowl Area.

Nearly every night when dust storms do not prevent, German tanks now nose around near the outer defense ring and several times they have had brushes with British tanks sent out to drive them off.

The most obvious reason is that the axis' forces want to learn where the British defenses lie, which points are strongest, and how much opposition they might meet. That sort of activity usually means that somebody is thinking of trying to break thru.

Tobruk itself is not so important to the Germans, except that it is a blow to their prestige that they have been unable to seize it in six months, and now it is so strong that it would take a pretty violent attack to get in.

There is no danger of catching Tobruk napping. The defenders have been in the city too long to nap.

"YOU'LL NEVER BE BALD, SON, BECAUSE WE ARE GOING TO CONSULT JOHN E. WARNER"

CHICAGO, Oct. 20.—(J. W.)—When father lost his hair 18 years ago, he was sure that his baldness was inherited and he had no one to turn to but various quacks who offered to regrow hair on a bald head. Science has never discovered a way to regrow hair on a bald head—and baldness remains a permanent condition except in very rare cases to the unfortunates so afflicted, but rapid strides have been made by John E. Warner and his Associates in the prevention of baldness. Statistics show that 85% of all baldness is due to local scalp conditions which can be checked and corrected if caught in time. Thousands of men have saved and improved their hair through the Warner method of treatment, but no case is ever accepted unless beneficial results are certain.

Many cases treated have resulted in a more luxuriant growth of hair and a greatly improved appearance. Each case is studied individually and constantly and each person treated is given detailed instructions at the conclusion of the treatment so that a healthy head of hair is a permanent condition.

FEES FOR TREATMENT ARE VERY MODERATE AND ARE PAYABLE AS THE TREATMENTS ARE TAKEN, NOT IN ADVANCE. There is a separate department for women. Other associate offices in Boston, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and Detroit. Hours, 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily; Saturday to 6 p. m.

BISHOP, LAYMAN AND 2 SENATORS BLAST WAR DRIVE

High Churchman Demands F. D. R. Halt Trend.

cannot compromise with communism," Scott said.

The speaker then deplored the pressure being exerted by foreign diplomats, propagandists, and royalty upon the leaders of the American government whose attitude grows increasingly warlike.

Royal Visits Have Purpose.

"It is hardly necessary for me to add, with all due deference to our President and his wife, that these royal visitors do not allow themselves to be entertained for merely social purposes. All of these visits have but one purpose, to get us into this war, for which we must pay the bill."

Scott told of a solemn prayer service to be held next Sunday night by the Catholic men of the Holy Name society of Los Angeles.

"We are going to ask His Almighty Divine Providence to vouchsafe to our harried President, surrounded by sycophants and 'yes men' and 'yes women,' the realization of the vanity of all earthly things, except to do the will of God," Scott asserted, concluding:

Archbishop Beckman, who has been outspoken against the growing trend toward war, took an even more emphatic stand as he assailed deception, propaganda, and the alliance with communism which, he asserted, threatens the existence of the American democracy.

"We are at the crossroads of constitutional government," he began. "Our laws are hypocritically evaded, then explained away under the guise of national emergency. The greatest dictatorship in the world is made or in the making.

History Attests Hypocrisy.

"Bitter history attests to the downright hypocrisy, faithlessness, and ruthless cunning which has led a nation of peace-minded people to the very brink of war."

The interventionists, he said, have cunningly, inch by inch, betrayed the guileless people. The 80 per cent of the people who are against war constitute the objective of the interventionists who hope to make the nation 100 per cent for war, the archbishop charged. In this connection he mentioned the national poll of Catholic clergymen which showed them to be 90 per cent against war.

The archbishop warned that liberty is the first corpse of war; that war makes tyrants and dictators even of democratic leaders—and has done so thru many pages of history.

He read a message from the Most Rev. Gerald Shaughnessy, archbishop of Seattle, Wash., who was to have been on the broadcast, but who had been unable to reach a microphone. Archbishop Shaughnessy amplified this warning:

"An investigation of the fall of democracies of the past invariably brings to light this record: A democratic executive metamorphoses into a benevolent despot. The benevolent despot doffs in turn his mask and reveals himself as a totalitarian dictator. Disillusioned people realize too late they have enslaved themselves. And thus passes liberty."

RIP U. S. WAR POLICY

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 19 [Special].—A resolution indorsing Sen. Wayland Brooks, noninterventionist leader, for reëlection next year was adopted today by the Illinois Republican Service Men's league at its annual convention here. The 1,100 war veterans in attendance also approved a resolution condemning the Roosevelt administration's foreign policy and calling on congress to refuse to surrender any more of its powers to the President.

The action followed an address by Sen. Brooks in which he declared it would be folly to attempt to land American troops on hostile shores and warned that such an eventuality would be the inevitable result of the administration's effort to entangle this country in the European war.

The resolution denouncing the administration's foreign policy demanded that "the executive branch of this government cease taking further belligerent steps that will make us a shooting participant in any foreign wars without first obtaining a declaration of war by congress."

Alert Citizenry Urged.

After asserting "we are unanimous in the support of the preparedness effort, but are unalterably opposed to the assumption of dictatorial powers by the present administration," the resolution continued:

"We demand that the congress of the United States surrender no further of its constitutional or inherent powers to the executive branch of the government."

In his address Sen. Brooks expressed a fear that this country is fast approaching the day when protests against administration policies will be impossible. He then discussed the practical difficulties of following President Roosevelt's war path.

"I recall," said the senator, "that we had a difficult time sending an expeditionary force of 2 million men to fight in the last World war, and remember—then we had a friendly Japan that freed the Pacific so our fleet could concentrate in the Atlantic, we had a friendly Italy with its forces in the Mediterranean, we had a friendly France and an England that was not afraid to cross the channel. What have we got now?

Appeals to Mothers.

"I ask you solemnly as mothers and fathers: Where do you want to send your sons to fight?"

Sen. Brooks emphasized the prohibitive dangers of trying to land an expeditionary force on hostile shores. He said coastal defenses, land based planes, torpedo boats, and other fast striking craft, and a mobile defense force would make the task of landing effective forces virtually impossible.

"Our own national defense does not mean sending our sons to die on battlefields of Europe," the senator continued.

"I hate Hitler and the things he stands for as much as you do. I hate all kinds of aggression as any American brought up to love our own way of life does. But, we don't want to fight on aggressors' battlefields in wars that are nothing but the result of thousands of years of hatred."

Reaffirms Campaign Pledge.

Reiterating his preëlection pledge to support all defense efforts but to fight against active intervention, Brooks asserted: "I'd rather be defeated and be returned to private life than to violate a single one of the pledges I made."

The senator declared his faith in the American system of government and said he would abide by any war decision made by congress, then added: "But, thank Heaven, it is still within my power to fight against what is happening now."

TELLS FIRST DUTY

America's first responsibility in the present international situation is to heed the experiences of 25 years ago and keep out of war, Sen. Gerald P. Nye [R., N. D.], one of the country's leading noninterventionists, declared last night in a speech at the First Congregational church of Oak Park.

Sen. Gerald P. Nye.

"We must avoid the waste and destruction that awaits every civilization that lets its hand touch these wars," he declared. "Our responsibility is to build a strong defense. We must see the way clearly and countermand the fear which has been substituted for reason as fiction has replaced truth."

Fear Psychology Developed.

He said that, thru propaganda, a fear psychology has been artfully developed in this country. "We are told," Sen. Nye said, "that if the British navy falls, we fall.

"In our sober hours we all know that never must we become dependent on any navy but our own. As for aggression, Lieut. Col. Thomas Phillips of the general staff corps, writing in the latest issue of Army Ordnance, stated, 'The bomber has made the American coast impregnable to invasion.'

"If we spend one-tenth of what's being spent in the name of defense for the strict defense of the Americas, all the powers combined would not be foolish enough to give a single thought to the conquest of the Americas," he said.

Calls Claim Preposterous.

Sen. Nye denounced as "preposterous" any claim that with Hitler dominant in Europe our foreign trade would be lost. "This represents only 3 to 5 per cent of our total economic dependence," he stated, "and if we lose it all, it's just as well. Its saving is not worth the surrender of one American life in Europe's war."

"I hate Hitlerism as much as does President Roosevelt. But my hate doesn't take the form of jealousy, nor does it call for a wasting of resources. America's place in the war is to preserve our resources so we may remain strong and upright when the warring nations tire."

In an address at an anti-war rally sponsored by the America First committee, Dr. John A. O'Brien, University of Notre Dame professor, urged his listeners to "thunder an immediate protest against changes in the neutrality act, the last slender barrier protecting us from the flames of the most destructive war in history."

RETIRED FLYER PLEADS FOR BIG AIR FIGHTER ARM

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Oct. 19 (AP).—A retired World war air corps officer declared tonight in radio debate that "the war machine of the United States should be aviation with two component subsidiaries, the army and navy." Lieut. Col. Harold E. Hartney cited the efficiency of separate air forces of Germany and Great Britain in advocating that the United States follow their example to guard against "the mistakes of France, Holland, Poland, and the host of countries under the Nazi shield."

United States Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, arguing the negative side of the subject "Should America Have a Separate Air Force," expressed belief that "the conflict now raging across the seas has demonstrated that no victory has been won by so-called independent air forces operating alone and without help of land and naval forces." Rep. Jennings Randolph [D., W. Va.] debated for the proposal, while Ellender had as a colleague Rep. Richard P. Gale of Minnesota. The debate over the Mutual Broadcasting system was the prelude to opening tomorrow of the convention of the Savings Bank Association of New York.

"In England," Col. Hartney said, "46 year old flying officers run the show, while 60 year old admirals and generals spend their time trying to have their prime minister use the RAF to pull their chestnuts off the fire."

2 Turk Generals, Hitler's Guests, Visit Antonescu

BERLIN, Oct. 19 (AP).—DNB, the German news agency, reported today that Generals Erkilet and Ali Fuat of the Turkish army, whom Adolf Hitler has invited to inspect the eastern front, had arrived in Bucharest and visited Premier General Antonescu. Gen. Ali Fuat is commandant of the Turkish Military academy.

U.S. Permission Required for Pacific Departures.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19.—Instructions to American merchant ship masters on the west coast not to sail for trans-Pacific ports without permission of the United States navy department gave further tangible evidence that the Roosevelt administration regards war with Japan an imminent possibility.

The order applies to more than 25 ships now in American ports loading with cargoes of munitions for Russia, China, British Malaysia, and the Netherlands East Indies.

Great secrecy surrounds the issuance of the order to the owners of American merchantmen. When inquiry was made of the navy department tonight for an explanation of the order the official reply was that no information could be given.

Follows Tokio Changes.

The order follows the formation of a new ministry at Tokio, composed of militaristic elements favoring aggressive action by Japan for imperial expansion in the orient in defiance of President Roosevelt's insistence upon the maintenance of the status quo in the orient.

The change in the Japanese government was precipitated by the successful progress of the German army in Russia and the prospect of the fall of Moscow, which would invite the Japanese to attack the flanks of waning Russian power in Siberia. The new Japanese government is headed by Gen. Tojo, who is conspicuously anti-Russian.

President Roosevelt's immediate reaction to the fall of the ministry of Prince Konoe was to call off his cabinet meeting on Thursday and convene instead a council of war.

Secrecy Cloaks Parley.

The President forbade the members of the war cabinet to reveal anything pertaining to the deliberation. The next day, however, the masters of American merchantmen in the orient received instructions from the navy department to put into "friendly ports" immediately.

While the administration declined to reveal the reason for this move the indications were that concern was felt chiefly for 14 American ships that were carrying munitions consigned to the Russian government across the Pacific to the port of Vladivostok. To reach Vladivostok ships must pass thru Japanese waters.

The Japanese government has manifested a critical attitude toward these operations, particularly in the supplying of the soviets with American oil which is denied to the Japanese by Mr. Roosevelt's embargo.

Tokio has left no doubt that if and when it shall suit the purpose of Japan to invade Siberia American ships carrying munitions to Vladivostok will be seized.

Mrs. Clara Hoover and James H. Lewis, 101, at chapel tribute to him.

Congratulatory letters from President Roosevelt, Gov. Green and Police Commissioner Allman were received by James H. Lewis, colored Civil war veteran, who celebrated his 101st birthday yesterday.

Lewis, whose grandfather was freed from slavery by George Washington for active service in the Revolutionary war and whose father fought with Andrew Jackson at New Orleans, was guest of honor at ceremonies in the Quinn chapel, 24th street and Wabash avenue. More than 60 persons attended, among them five Civil war veterans, Capt. Thomas Ambrose, 93; Lieut. Milton H. Meyers, 100; Albert E. Gage, 97; Dennis Finley, 97, and James Harvey, 96.

Lewis' birthday actually fell on Sept. 1, but the celebration was postponed until yesterday. Despite dimming eyes, the old veteran is an active church member of Quinn chapel and sings in the choir every Sunday.

FEAR OF U. S. WAR ENTRY STIRS JAP HOPES FOR UNITY

Nation Calm as It Awaits Action by Tojo.

BY KIMPEI SHEBA.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, Oct. 19.—Public reaction today to the new cabinet headed by Gen. Eiki Tojo was calm and reserved. Hope was expressed on all sides that fear of American participation in the war and the intensification of American-British-Chinese-Dutch encirclement of Japan would enable Tojo and Foreign Minister Shigenori Togo to bring about complete unity between the supreme command and the diplomatic front.

In describing the cabinet lineup, the newspaper Miyako pointed out that its members are men of small caliber at first glance. But, it added, the new cabinet is neither a hodgepodge nor a makeshift.

Express Great Confidence.

"It is the cabinet most suited to carry out the aspirations and intention of Premier Tojo," the newspaper continued. "It can hardly be imagined that any internal disagreement should ever be brought about, barring minor problems. This point is the strong point of the new cabinet, and the nation places greatest confidence in it, in this respect."

Several papers emphasized Tojo's vow to strive for peace.

Deny It Is Warminded.

Other papers also maintained that the Tojo cabinet is not a warlike administration. They maintain that if foreign countries construe the cabinet change as meaning that Japan is preparing for new military adventures, they are badly mistaken.

Whether Japan will engage in new conflicts will be decided not by it alone, but will depend in some measure on the attitude of other parties, Miyako states. It adds that "the new cabinet will not challenge others unnecessarily, but will not shirk, if challenged."

CHICAGO GROUPS MARK NATIONAL HEARING WEEK

National Hearing week will be observed beginning tomorrow, by the American Society for the Hard of Hearing in coöperation with 166 local societies. Miss Gertrude B. Byrne, executive secretary of the Chicago Society for the Hard of Hearing announced yesterday.

"Defend Hearing" will be the slogan of the week. A national program of information on the causes of deafness and how to prevent it will be conducted. Open house will be held all week at the Chicago Society for the Hard of Hearing in the Fine Arts building. Inspection tours of the Victory workshop in the Haven elementary school, 1472 South Wabash avenue, will be made. The shop, founded seven years ago by a group of north shore clubwomen, teaches trades to persons hard of hearing.

A health problem confronting the nation at the present time, according to Miss Byrne, is the impairment known as the boiler maker's deafness. The roar of factories, drilling, riveting, blasting, and other noises will produce deafness unless steps are taken to prevent it, she stated.

KILLS HIGHWAY POLICEMAN ON WAY TO TAVERN

Admits Having Visited 12 Before Accident.

(Picture on back page.)

A motorist who admitted he had visited at least 12 taverns and was on his way to another, struck and killed a county highway policeman at Harlem avenue and 79th street, Stickney township, early yesterday. His victim was Policeman Frank Christian of the Willow Springs station, married and the father of two children.

Leonard Hall.

The driver was Leonard Hall, 27 year old, of 6217 South Menard avenue, a laborer. Police said he had no driver's license, and that his automobile brakes were faulty.

Warning Flares Ignored.

Policeman Christian and his partner, Anton Jiracek, were on duty at the Harlem-79th intersection because of a previous accident. Warning flares illuminating the area were posted, and Christian stood on the pavement waving approaching cars to one side with a red flashlight. Suddenly Hall's car headed straight at Christian at high speed, according to Policeman Jiracek. It hurled Christian 50 feet.

The policeman was killed outright. Policeman Jiracek seized Hall and took him to the Willow Springs station, where he was questioned by Sergt. Jerry Pons. The sergeant quoted Hall as having said he had visited 12 taverns and was on his way to a 13th when he hit Christian.

Hall, according to Pons, said he drove past the last tavern and was doubling back to it when he struck Christian. Hall said he believed a young man and woman were with him, but that they probably fled after the accident.

On Force Three Years.

Policeman Christian was 40 years old, and lived at 5232 West 25th street, Cicero. He had been a highway patrolman three years.

Joseph Grande, 52, of 3942 Arthington street, a polisher, died in Bethany hospital of injuries received Friday when he was struck by an automobile upon alighting from a street car near his home. The driver was Charles Rubenstein, 46, of 2820 Augusta boulevard. He was charged with reckless driving.

Daniel O'Rourke, 66, a farmer living near Union, McHenry county, died in the Woodstock hospital of injuries received Sept. 12 when his car collided near Woodstock with one driven by John J. Feeney Sr. of Madison, Wis.

Up to 4 p. m. yesterday 748 persons had been killed by automobiles in Cook county since Jan. 1. Of these, 515 were killed in Chicago, where 20,414 were injured in the same period.

RUM PRODUCTION MAY BE DROPPED BY GOVERNMENT

ST. THOMAS, Virgin Islands, Oct. 19 (AP).—The United States government may go out of the rum business, or at least cut down on production.

Frederick H. Walton, president of the federally owned Virgin Islands company, said today the concern was considering changing over to the manufacture of alcohol necessary to the production of smokeless powder.

"The Virgin Islands company originally went into the rum business to afford an outlet for sugar cane production in the Virgin Islands," Walton said.

"Now, however, the United States is facing an estimated shortage of at least 13,000,000 gallons of industrial alcohol this year. It takes some 60 gallons of ethyl alcohol to manufacture the 1,500 pounds of smokeless powder required to fire a single 16 inch shell from a navy gun.

"We are, therefore, exploring the possibilities of using our productive capacities for the manufacture of industrial alcohol for the government.

"And one of the happy aspects of the situation is that we can produce defense alcohol almost immediately. There will be little, if any, worrying about priorities, such as for copper or aluminum [used in the distilling industry]."

BRITISH WRITER, SEN. WHEELER IN VERBAL DISPUTE

New York, Oct. 19 (AP).—Beverly Baxter, British political writer and member of parliament, said today that Sen. Burton K. Wheeler [D., Mont.], noninterventionist leader, told him the United States was determined not to be drawn into a war of revenge in behalf of the Jews.

Wheeler promptly denied the statement.

"Mr. Wheeler has some strange idea that England is fighting a Jewish war," the Briton told newsmen upon his departure for London on Pan-American airways' Dixie Clipper. "He told me that right across America there was a determination not to be brought into a war of revenge in behalf of the Jews."

In Washington, Wheeler, informed of Baxter's statement, said that Baxter was "just a plain damn liar."

The Montana senator said his only reference to Jews came when Baxter asked him if he "thought England was being run by the Jews."

Wheeler said he replied: "I never heard it contended that it was." Wheeler added that he did tell Baxter "there was a lot of anti-Semitism in the United States and that I was very much worried that it was growing."

Baxter is a political writer for 18 British newspapers in a chain owned by Lord Kemsley.

Baxter said the general war situation was "very serious, indeed," and added that "Americans have given their hearts to the British cause, but we have not yet won some of their heads."

HUNT 6 ROBBERS FOR SLAYING OF TAVERN KEEPER

Police of Lockport and Joliet were engaged in a wide search last night for a gang of quick trigger robbers who invaded a tavern at 6th and State streets in Lockport early yesterday, shot and killed the owner, Iver Olson, 32 years old, and wounded a patron. Olson and 50 guests were celebrating the first anniversary of his marriage.

Known hoodlums in the district were investigated by the police, and witnesses to the slaying spent most of yesterday looking at photographs of robbers in police files. The gang, reports of whose number vary from four to six, all appeared to range in age from 16 to 22 years, police were told.

Guests Sent to Rear Room.

The robbers, wearing handkerchief masks, entered Olson's tavern shortly before 2 a. m. Olson's wife, Esther, was in a rear room chatting with guests. "Everybody get in the back room!" yelled the leader, who carried a sawed-off shotgun. He and an accomplice began herding the dancers to the rear while the rest of the gang took places behind the bar, pushing the bartender, Roy Peak, ahead with the others.

At this point, Olson, who also had been in the rear, stepped forward. Evidently believing the incident was a prank, he laughed, "What'll you have, boys? What is it all about?"

Without a word, one of the bandits opened fire. Olson fell dead, shot thru his left lung and heart.

Hurls Stool at Leader.

Women screamed and in the confusion, Stillman Mitchell, 32, of Lockport, hurled a stool at the gang leader. The others turned their guns on him, shooting him in both legs. He was treated in St. Joseph's hospital, Joliet.

As the turmoil grew, the leader of the robbers shouted: "Let's get outta here!" and ordered his accomplices into the street. They ran to an automobile parked in a side street and fled without loot.

NURSE IS RAPED NEAR HOSPITAL; HUNT FOR NEGRO

Marquette police last night were hunting for a young Negro who early yesterday morning beat and raped a nurse, 25 years old, after dragging her into an alley at the rear of 1836 Taylor street.

Lieut. Edward Collopy, who is directing the investigation, said the nurse had left a motion picture theater at 1641 Roosevelt road and was walking north in Wolcott avenue to her room in the University hospital, 432 South Wolcott, when she was attacked.

Her hysterical condition prevented police from getting a coherent statement until 20 hours later, Collopy said. She described the rapist as about 25 years old, of slim build, wearing a dark hat and coat.

HOW A LOAN CAN HELP YOU PAY UP YOUR OLD BILLS

WOULD A $100 or $200 loan come in handy this month? Have you old bills you would like to clean up with a loan?

If you have a job, you may borrow up to $300 at Household Finance in a simple, private transaction. Then you may repay your loan in monthly installments arranged to fit your own income and paydays.

3 ways to borrow

Suppose that you need $100. The table shows that 12 monthly installments of $9.77 each will repay a $100 loan in full. Or, if you wish smaller payments, as little as $6.99 a month will repay a $100 loan in 18 months.

All you do to apply for a Household Finance loan is to tell us how much you need and how you wish to repay. Household Finance loans are made in three ways. First way: On your personal note. No security required. This type of loan is made, when circumstances warrant, to both single persons and married couples. Second way: On your car. This plan may best fit your needs. Third way: On your furniture. This plan is used by thousands. Here character and income are far more important than the value of your security. Your loan will be made the way which best fits your own situation.

Other important points: It is not necessary to ask friends or fellow-workers to act as endorsers. And at no time do we question friends or relatives about your money affairs. You get your loan quickly and simply.

Get your loan for less

Payments in the table include charges at Household's rate of 2½% per month on that part of a balance not exceeding $100 and 2% per month on that part of a balance in excess of $100. The Small Loan Law permits us to charge substantially more than this. Some finance companies do charge more. We publish our rates and payments to help you shop for your loan.

If you need money for an emergency, bring your problem to Household. Or just phone and say that you need a loan. We are here to serve you. Phone or visit us without obligation.

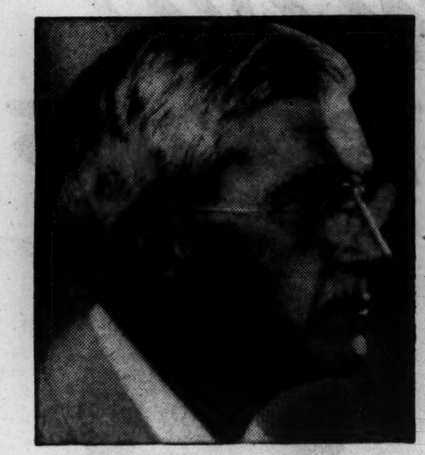
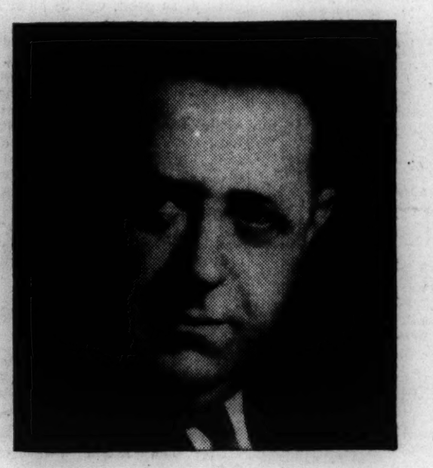
AN INVITATION TO CHICAGO NEWSPAPER READERS

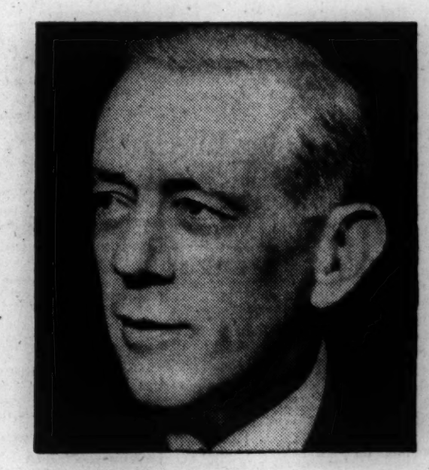


WILLIAM LYON PHELPS—The best-loved literary figure in America: author, critic, lecturer, and for 41 years, Professor of English Literature at Yale University.

PEARL S. BUCK—Only American woman to receive the Nobel Prize for Literature, awarded for the body of her work. She also received the Pulitzer Prize and the Howells Medal for "The Good Earth" particularly.



HENDRIK WILLEM VAN LOON—The brilliant artist and scholar who made history, art and literature fascinating to millions when he wrote "The Story of Mankind," "The Arts" and other great works.



JOHN KIERAN—Well-known writer and expert of "Information Please," this connoisseur of good reading amazes millions of listeners with his inexhaustible store of knowledge.

May we help you select the great books you have always wanted to read?

You are invited to accept a Charter Membership in the new* CLASSICS CLUB... *and to receive on approval beautifully bound editions of the world's finest masterpieces, chosen by the four distinguished judges, for only 89¢ per volume.

THE four celebrated literary experts pictured above need no introduction to you. Each is famous in the literary world. Each bears an unexcelled reputation in that particular branch of letters to which a lifetime of work and study has been devoted.

Suppose one of them were to visit your home today. The conversation would naturally turn to worthwhile books. And—no matter how much or how little education you may have had—you would listen enthralled as your famous guest spoke glowingly of the greatest books of all time, what warm friends you can make of them, and how they can help anyone attain a fuller, richer life.

You would remember, of course, the many times you had resolved to read only the best books. All you needed was someone you could depend upon to tell you how to go about it. And here would be that someone right at your elbow—a great literary authority—whom you could ask about the books that would help you either start a program of good reading or to complete one.

What these Four Experts have Done for You

THAT very question about the best books ever written has been asked of William Lyon Phelps, Pearl S. Buck, John Kieran, and Hendrik Willem van Loon so often that they decided to do something about it.

So they have now formed themselves into a Selection Committee to choose the masterpieces which offer the greatest enjoyment and value to the "pressed-for-time" men and women of today. They agreed in advance that every book finally selected must receive the unanimous vote of all four members of the Committee and they arranged to present these great books to the public through the newly formed CLASSICS CLUB.

Why are the Great Books Called "Classics"?

A TRUE "CLASSIC" is a living book that will never grow old. For sheer fascination it can rival the most thrilling modern novel. In its vitality of inspiration it can arouse a new freshness of viewpoint and a new broadness of understanding, so necessary in times like these.

Perhaps you have often wondered how these truly great books "got that way." First, because they are so readable. They would not have lived unless they were read, and they would not have been read unless they were interesting. And, of course, to be interesting they had to be easy to understand. And those are the very qualities which characterize these selections: readability, interest, simplicity.

It is not necessary to have a "higher education" to appreciate these books; and, after you read and know them, you will have acquired a broader and more liberal education than most of your business and personal acquaintances. You will have lost any personal concern about an "inferiority complex" and any fear about being the equal of others whose "formal" education is greater than your own.

The CLASSICS CLUB is the Only Book Club of its Kind in America

The CLASSICS CLUB is different from all other book clubs, in these four ways:

1. Its sole purpose is to distribute to its members the world's great classics at low prices.
2. Its basic price is lower than that of any other book club.
3. Its Charter Members are not obligated to take any specific number of books.
4. All its volumes are bound in attractive, uniform CLASSICS CLUB bindings, a mark of distinction in your library.

TO READERS OF THIS NEWSPAPER

An Opportunity to Become a Charter Member

YOU ARE INVITED to become a Charter Member of this new CLASSICS CLUB; to enjoy the books which its Selection Committee has so carefully chosen. You will receive, each month, one of the unanimously selected world's great books of Fiction, Humor, Biography, Travel, Adventure, Essays, Poetry, Philosophy, Science, and Plays. With each book will come an advance notice about the next selection, and you have the privilege of rejecting any book you may not wish, and of cancelling your membership at any time you so desire.

Every volume will be complete and authoritative. None will be a "condensation" or a "digest" of the original version. All texts will be authentic and brought up to date in accordance with the latest discoveries about each author's work.

The Reasons for the Low Price

RARELY has such a small expenditure provided so much in book quality. The reasons are simple. The book-club method of distribution, by assuring the sale of a definitely known quantity of books, eliminates the costly waste and risk of overprinting and of leftover copies.

That is why the Regular Edition of each CLASSICS CLUB selection can be durably bound in a fine grade of standard cloth, handsomely stamped, and still be priced at only 89¢ per volume. The De Luxe Edition is so richly bound that it will at once become the center of attraction of your entire library. Its price is only $1.39 per volume. The prices of these two editions, plus a few cents postage charges, will be available to members only.

Each Book is Offered on Approval

AS A CHARTER MEMBER, you are offered each volume on approval. You will never be obligated to take any specific number of books. You may accept only the volumes you really want. No money need be paid in advance. There are no membership fees. Furthermore, you may cancel membership at any time you wish.

The CLASSICS CLUB is a lastingly worthwhile book club offering an economical method of acquiring beautiful, uniformly-bound masterpieces of enduring merit. These expertly chosen volumes will become a complete home-library in themselves. For years to come they will provide you and your children with thousands of hours of the most pleasurable and profitable reading.

So that you may be entitled to the privileges of Charter Membership, may we suggest that you mail this Invitation Form to us at once. Immediate action on your part is advisable; paper, printing, and binding costs are rising and naturally these low prices cannot be assured except to those who respond promptly. THE CLASSICS CLUB, 330 West 42nd Street, New York, N. Y.

NOTE: The De Luxe Edition is luxuriously bound in fine buckram, richly stamped, and with tinted page tops, an impresssively decorative addition to your library. For books which you and your children will read and cherish for many years, the De Luxe Edition is most desirable.

THE CLASSICS CLUB CTR102041

It is also understood that I may cancel my membership whenever I wish.

WHITNEYS FIND RACING CHEAP, THANKS TO U. S

Costs of Expensive Hobby Cut by Tax Rulings.

[This is the second of several articles explaining how the federal government indirectly subsidizes the horse race gambling racket by means of income tax rulings.]

Wealthy playboys and their women folk are seldom turned down in seeking income tax deductions for racing stable losses because it is difficult to prove that they do not hope to make a profit, a revenue agent said yesterday.

Professional gamblers freely admit that it would be a blow to the handbook racket if the government should reverse its view that year after year of stable losses does not show that the operators merely are following a rich men's hobby. They say—with a knowing smile—that there is no danger of this taking place.

View Bettors in Different Light.

The little men who play the rich men's horses cannot deduct their losses from other income, however, the federal agent said, adding an "of course."

Why can't the chump bettor contend with equal success that he hopes to make a profit? With a shrug of his shoulders, the agent said this point had been settled in Washington, D. C., by the tax appeals board and by the courts.

However, the agent provided a table of income surtaxes in the higher brackets which made it clear why the lush international set will continue to run even losing horses without undue loss of composure.

On incomes of $150,000 to $200,000 the surtax was 60 per cent on last year's income. It was 70 per cent on incomes of $500,000 to $750,000, 73 per cent on incomes of 1 to 2 million dollars, and 75 per cent on 5 million dollars or more.

These figures are more than interesting reading to the nation's leading inheritors of great wealth. They mean that a nominal loss of $100,000 in a year for the exquisite pleasure of keeping up with "the sport of kings" is translated into an actual expenditure of only $25,000 to $40,000—which is chicken feed in some circles.

Whitney Case Cited.

In 1933 it appeared for a brief spell that the tax appeals board would change its custom when it refused to permit Richard Whitney, then president of the New York Stock exchange, to deduct $10,326 from his tax bill for operating his racing stable.

Whitney had operated his stable since 1918 with higher expenses each year and never once made a profit, said the board, and it was "a hobby of a rich man." But the next year the Circuit Court of Appeals decided that it was a business after all.

Richard Whitney has been away from the tracks for several years. In 1938 he was sentenced to Sing Sing prison in connection with an 11 million dollar bank crash. Last month he emerged to become the manager of a friend's dairy farm.

Other Whitneys remain prominent on the racing scene, however. John Hay Whitney's horses last year brought home $52,700, which was at least a contribution toward expenses. This Whitney saved an estimated $396,000 in deductions for his racing stables on total income of $2,390,000 for 1932-'35, inclusive.

Wins Only $37,000.

Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney in 1940 took purses totaling $37,000, which could hardly have covered the cost of his plant. For four years he led the nation in purses won: 1930, $385,972; 1931, $422,923; 1932, $403,681, and 1933, $241,292.

Also known as "Sonny," this Whitney had as grandfathers Commodore Cornelius Vanderbilt and William C. Whitney, who established the family's eminence in the racing game.

"Sonny" Whitney's father, Harry Payne Whitney, who also operated the stables with a flourish, died in 1930 leaving an estate appraised at 71 million dollars.

Largest U. S. Estate.

An uncle of "Sonny," Payne Whitney, died in 1927, leaving what up to that time was said to have been the largest estate ever appraised in America—$186,880,000. His horses were valued at nearly a million dollars.

In the 1940 season Mrs. J. F. Whitney's horses garnered only a modest sum in purses won—$6,525—toward their stable's maintenance.

Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, a cousin of "Sonny" Whitney, is head of the famous Belmont and Pimlico racing plants. Unlike some of the others, he makes this his only occupation. Bankers clip the bond coupons in his inherited fortune estimated at more than 20 millions. The return on his stables was relatively small last year—purses totaling $38,000.

Kills Self with Auto Gas; Needed $1,000, Note Says

Harold Stevens, 37 years old, was found dead yesterday from carbon monoxide fumes in his car in the garage at the rear of his home at 4220 North Moody avenue. A note read: "If I had $1,000 I wouldn't do this." Stevens was employed as an accountant for Armour & Co.

BOB BAR OF DRINKS AND SMOKES.

Two gunmen entered the tavern at 7200 South Halsted street early yesterday, menaced a bartender, a porter, and two patrons, and escaped with $100 and $150 worth of liquor and cigarets.

POLICE, FIREMEN SPEND 5 HOURS REVIVING WOMAN

A five hour fight to save the life of a woman who threw herself into the lake yesterday apparently had succeeded last night, setting a record in the annals of artificial respiration in Chicago. The woman, Mrs. Sonja Jacobson, 34 years old, 3244 North Clark street, plunged into the lake at Montrose avenue at 3:30 p. m. after quarreling with her daughter, Sonja, 15, and her husband, Albert.

She was brought to shore at 3:40 p. m. by two youths, Anthony Beck and Carl Fox, both of 3431 North Hoyne avenue. One applied artificial respiration while the other summoned Park Policemen Earl Greenwood and Robert Hubert, who continued the work until the arrival of Capt. John Hendle and a fire department inhalator squad.

Using an oxygen resuscitator, the firemen eventually were able to detect a pulse beat and continued their work on the beach until 5:30 p. m. when they deemed it safe to take Mrs. Jacobson to the American hospital. There at 8:25 p. m. she began to breath faintly, but normally. Capt. Hendle said that usually, after 45 minutes of work, the patient is revived or dead.

GREEN ASSAILED BY DEMOCRATIC COURT NOMINEE

Gov. Dwight H. Green was criticised yesterday by State Senator Harold G. Ward, Democratic nominee for judge of the Superior court. He spoke at a 42d ward meeting at Foresters' hall, 109 North Dearborn street.

"Gov. Green, the self-appointed dictator," he said, "has been spending a great deal of time in Cook county telling the voters whom to elect as judges. He would be better occupied if he were at his desk in Springfield.

"Before election, Green promised to take the sales tax off food. You and I know the sales tax still is on food and that he didn't even go thru the motions of trying to take it off. Instead he issued orders to his partisans to defeat the bill introduced by Democrats to take it off.

"He promised to reduce the cost of state government, but in the first year of his administration the appropriations constitute an all time high. And he has failed to pay the aged the increase from $30 to $40 a month they were promised. Gov. Green is trying to build the greatest political machine in the history of the state."

Fire Causes $100 Damage in Drake Hotel Dining Room

Firemen using hand pumps and chemical equipment extinguished a fire in a grease chute in the International room at the Drake hotel last night. Damage was less than $100. Several parties of diners were transferred to another room while the smoke cleared. Traffic was halted for several minutes at the busy intersection of Michigan avenue, Oak street, and the Outer drive.

$155,000 CLAIMS FILED AGAINST FRANK ESTATE

Attorney Expresses Doubt of Full Payment.

BY FRED GRAFF.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 19.—Claims of more than $155,000 have been filed against the estate of Dr. Glenn Frank, late president of the University of Wisconsin, it was learned today.

Dr. Frank and his son, Glenn Jr., were killed in an automobile accident the night of Sept. 15, 1940, on the eve of the Wisconsin primary election in which Dr. Frank was a candidate for the Republican nomination for United States senator.

The appraiser's report of assets has not been filed, according to William Spohn, Madison attorney for Mrs. Frank. It is doubtful, according to Spohn, if the total assets, consisting chiefly of the beautiful Frank home in suburban Maple Bluff and insurance policies, will be sufficient to meet claims against the estate.

Income Over $18,000 a Year.

The huge claims came as a surprise to those who knew the extent of Dr. Frank's annual income for a number of years as president of the state university and from his writings and lectures. This income was more than $18,000 annually during the 12 years Frank was president of the university.

Frank was known to have carried several large insurance policies.

Individual claims range from a few dollars to one of more than $39,000 and come from clothing and food stores, hotels in several large cities, garages, printing companies, and from persons holding personal notes.

Fought the La Follettes.

Hailed as the "boy president" when he came here in 1925 to head the state university, Frank was ousted after a 12 year tenure by a board of regents which had been "packed" the previous year by the then governor, Phil La Follette.

Frank was in the midst of a fight to unseat United States Sen. Robert M. La Follette Jr., when he was killed 13 months ago.

Judicial Candidates

BY PERCY WOOD.

(This is another of a series of sketches of the nominees for the Cook county judicial election of Nov. 4. They are being published in the order in which the candidates' names appear on the ballot.)

REPUBLICAN.

Attorney Milford H. Olds, 45 years old, a native Illinoisan and a veteran of the army air corps, will have 14th place on the Republican Superior court ballot for the Nov. 4 election. He is a native of Wyanet, and has practiced law in Chicago since 1922.

Milford H. Olds.

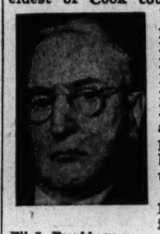
Olds was graduated from Tiskilwa High school, and studied in the liberal arts college at Northwestern university from 1913 to 1915, entering the Northwestern law school in the latter year. He enlisted in the army air service in 1917 and served overseas in 1918, returning to Northwestern after the war to finish his legal course.

He was graduated in law in 1921, admitted to the bar the next year, and was first employed by the legal aid bureau of the United Charities. In 1923, Olds formed a partnership with Victor E. La Rue, which continued until 1931 when Olds established a practice for himself.

In 1938, Olds ran unsuccessfully for the Republican nomination for congress from the 3d district, and in 1940 he tried for congressman at large.

DEMOCRATIC.

Judge Eli I. Frankhauser, at 80 the eldest of Cook county jurists, has been on the Superior court since 1929, and holds 14th place on the Democratic ballot for reelection Nov. 4. Classified as a Deneen Republican, he won both his terms under coalition.



Eli I. Frankhauser.

Judge Frankhauser was born in Ohio, the son of an Evangelical minister, and was graduated from high school at Monroe, Mich., and from Hillsdale college. He was admitted to the bar in Michigan after editing a country newspaper for four years.

Moving to Chicago, the judge was elected to a term in the Illinois house of representatives and won the commendation of the Legislative Voters league. He became a Circuit court master in chancery and prior to his election to the Superior court represented the 49th ward in the city council for four terms, resigning midway in his fifth term to go on the bench.

When he was a judicial candidate in 1929 the Chicago Bar association called Judge Frankhauser "a lawyer of fine character, honest, conscientious, and industrious," but withheld its support from him.

RESUME RECOUNT OF '40 MUNICIPAL COURT ELECTION

Altho one of the contestants, Samuel Heller, is now a nominee for election on Nov. 4 to the Municipal court, the recount of the vote for associate judges of the Municipal court cast last November is scheduled to be resumed this morning.

County Judge Edmund K. Jarecki said the tests begun several months ago will be continued until 500 precincts have been retallied to determine whether all the 3,648 in the city should be reviewed. When the work was checked several weeks ago 117 precincts had been covered.

The contest was begun by Edward B. Casey and Heller, who, on charges of error and fraud, are seeking to replace two Democrats, Le Roy Hackett and Joseph J. Drucker, the last two in the group of 12 shown as winners by the official count last year.

LIGHTS PIPE; BLAST INJURIOUS.

George Vedriivoit, 59 years old, a junkman, was burned severely yesterday in an explosion outside his shack at 119th street and Doty avenue. He was taken to the county hospital. Police said he probably ignited rubbish fumes outside the shack when lighting his pipe.

Historic Declarations of American Foreign Policy

No. 4—James Monroe:

"Separated as we are from Europe by the great Atlantic ocean, we can have no concern in the wars of European governments nor in the causes which produce them. . . . It is the interest of the United States to preserve the most friendly relations with every power and on conditions fair, equal, and appreciable to all."—Annual Message, Dec. 7, 1824.

AMERICA: NATION OR COLONY?

The news from Japan has aroused the British press to a chorus for action—action by the United States.

America must declare war on Japan at once if the Japanese make any further move in the far east, declares the London News-Chronicle, adding that we have the major responsibility in that area. A Japanese attack on Russia might be a blessing in disguise if it brought the United States into the war, the editor continues.

The London Daily Mail says, "The time for decisive American action is at hand," adding that "Japanese aggression is America's business."

The fact that the United States has neither the motive nor the means for inflicting a major military defeat on the Japanese does not enter the calculations of British gentlemen who urge, "Let's you and him fight." It is British trade, not American trade, that has been stricken by the Japanese invasion of China. Our own China trade is less than our trade with Japan. It is British imperial satrapies that are menaced by the Japanese move to the south, not American possessions.

Japan can, if she wishes, cut the sea route from our Pacific coast to the Russian port of Vladivostok, and no military or naval measures this country can take can prevent her from doing so. The route runs within sight of her main islands. It extends thousands of miles beyond the effective range of the United States fleet.

The British editor who predicts that an American-Japanese war would be short and sharp—"a single fleet engagement would decide the issue"—talks folly. The Japanese are not so simple minded as to bring on such an engagement. Our own military authorities believe that it would take two years and thousands, if not hundreds of thousands, of American lives to advance our forces step by step across the Pacific, seizing bases from which we might in time attack Japan proper.

If America should go to war with Japan we would not be fighting primarily to keep open a trans-Siberian supply line which, because of its inherent and irremediable defects, is worthless for any large scale movement of aid to the armies fighting Hitler. We would be fighting, principally, for the trade and territory of the British empire.

The British editors who invite us to go to war, who insist that it is our duty to fight in the far east, are speaking to us as to colonists whom they consider derelict in duty to the mother country. Their impudence is not without excuse. They are encouraged by our own state department, which is willing to look upon the United States as a colony, bound to follow the lead of Great Britain.

The American people fought the revolution to free themselves from political slavery and economic subjugation to the British. If we permit our present leaders to restore our colonial status, we may look forward to a repetition of that political slavery and the economic disaster from which the courage of our forefathers freed us once.

KNEE-PANTS HUEY LONG.

The student demonstration against Gov. Eugene Talmadge on the University of Georgia campus was not an irresponsible manifestation of youthful spirits. It indicated that the youth of the state appreciate that they must pay the price because the voters were sufficiently ill advised to return Talmadge to office after once getting rid of him. The first payment has already been exacted. In reprisal for the governor's bigoted attack on the state's educational system the Southern University conference, composed of 41 leading institutions from Maryland to Georgia, has unanimously dropped the University of Georgia from membership.

The action resulted from Talmadge's removal of Dr. Walter D. Cocking as dean of the university's school of education. The governor charged that Dr. Cocking advocated racial equality. The conference found that Talmadge had acted without justifiable cause and that he was guilty of political interference with education. The cases of half a dozen other educators purged by Talmadge were not considered.

The Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools is also investigating the Georgia situation and there are indications that it will remove all state schools from its accredited list. The General Education board, a philanthropic organization which has given a large amount of money to Georgia educational institutions, has withdrawn all further support. The Rosenwald fund, which is dedicated to the improvement of the colored people, is expected to follow suit.

The funds to sustain education in Georgia are being taken away and accredited status is on the way out. When that happens Georgia students will be unable to transfer their credits to any other approved school which they might seek to attend. In a system of free schools this would result in the debasement of Georgia scholarship to the level prevailing in Nazi Germany.

There have been many invasions of academic freedom in the past. In most cases the pressure exerted by such organizations as the American Association of University Professors, the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, and similar agencies which set standards and protect the spirit of free inquiry have been sufficient to bring the offender to mark.

Let us hope it is so in Georgia. Not since Huey Long degraded the educational system of Louisiana and attempted to convert the state university into a hippodrome has there been such a pernicious assault on the province of learning. The development of an enlightened younger generation that would prevent the recurrence of such abuses and lead Georgia forward into a respectable place among the states is being retarded. Gov. Talmadge, like Huey Long, apparently prefers the perpetuation of a Tobacco Road civilization. Only in such an environment could he survive as a pint-sized tyrant.

ARE JUKE BOXES ARMS?

The Office of Production Management has just punished a Chicago aluminum foundry. Charging that the Central Pattern and Foundry company had failed to state accurately in its reports to the priorities board the amount of aluminum on hand, and that it was going to use some of the metal to make juke boxes and slot machines, Donald M. Nelson, the priorities director, ordered the company to suspend all aluminum operations for a period of six months. When the company has completed work on arms orders that were on its books Oct. 1, it will have to stop aluminum work until March 31, 1942.

There are several peculiar aspects to the case. The alleged violation concerned shipments last July totaling 41,000 pounds of aluminum. The principal concern getting the metal was the Mills Novelty company, which has been engaged in making juke boxes for the Soundies Distributing company. Capt. James Roosevelt, the President's eldest son, is vice president and chairman of the board of the latter company.

Mr. Fred Mills, president of the company, in an interview with a Tribune reporter last August said Capt. Jimmy's juke boxes in addition to going to saloons and cafés were wanted for the army camps. He declared that "government departments want the machines for educational purposes and we expect to get priority on materials." Mr. Mills said he had enough materials on hand for 5,000 more of the machines, most of which were already ordered.

The company which supplied the aluminum for Capt. Jimmy's juke boxes must have concluded from this optimism of the head of the Mills company that the whole setup had nothing to worry about.

The legal aspects of the case are even more interesting. From what does the priorities board derive its power to punish a company for a violation of its orders? It would appear on good authority that it has none. Mr. Maurice Heckscher, chief attorney for the priorities organization, speaking at Washington before a priorities conference on Aug. 26, said there was slight legal basis for any of the things which the priorities division was doing. We quote from the official report of Mr. Heckscher's speech:

"I had better go back to what is the present Magna Charta of the legal basis of the priorities division. In section 2 [a] of Public 671 [a], an act of congress passed a little over a year ago, we find the legal basis for all priority actions, and in that act there are these few words. In effect the congress said the President shall have the discretion to grant preference to deliveries of material under army and navy contracts."

The only power that the priorities director possesses is in the name of the President to require a firm to fill army and navy orders before civilian orders are filled. He does not have the power to deny materials to concerns producing civilian goods nor to say that this firm may have supplies and that one may not. He has not been voted authority to order any firm to cease operating.

The priorities director took steps against the Chicago aluminum concern to establish a precedent. He wanted to show that he could punish some one if he felt like it. As the order is illegal the company should be able to present itself at places where bids for arms work were being received and to make bids for business exactly as if no order had been issued. It should also be able to carry out any orders that it has received without interference.

THE LEGION PROTESTS.

Protests continue to roll up as American Legion posts thruout the middle west meet to consider the prowar resolutions that the government pay rollers succeeded in steamrolling thru the Legion convention at Milwaukee. This was to be expected. It was obvious that the delegates at Milwaukee were speaking for few beside themselves. A large proportion of their leaders had sold their allegiance for jobs in Mayor La Guardia's phony Paul Revere organization or to get on other governmental pay rolls.

It is a comparatively easy matter, particularly when the leaders are complacent, or coöperative, or corrupted, to put a resolution thru a national convention of almost any organization, but when the machinery by which the action is procured is operated so openly and brazenly as it was in Milwaukee the action loses any meaning to the people of the country. They can see it for what it was.

A number of the Legion posts that have disavowed the action of the national convention call for a referendum which would give every member of the American Legion a direct voice on war and a second AEF. That proposal was made to the convention leaders and they were afraid to accept it. Unless they do, the Legion's voice for war will remain a feeble one. It is being too widely contradicted for the public to believe that it is representative of the rank and file.

Editorial of the Day

HAROLD'S HARD WEEK.

[Indianapolis News.]

It was a hard week for Secretary Ickes. First, a United States district judge held that the Aluminum Company of America is not a monopoly, trust, or trade restrainer. Secretary Ickes decided long ago, tho, that the company was a monopoly. On that ground he refused to sell federal power to it. That decision is one reason for the country's aluminum shortage.

The next day the British said that they would be glad to return 10 or 15 of the oil tankers that they borrowed from the United States. Secretary Ickes had declared weeks ago that the British had to have the tankers or perish. On this conclusion he based his gasoline rationing order to eastern states. First the railroads showed that if their 22,000 tank cars were used there would be plenty of gasoline in the east, then the British said that they did not need all the tankers.

In the parade of the genial secretary's misfortunes things never seem to come alone. When he has a bad week he really has a bad week. It was bad enough for an American judge to decide against him, but when the British government put him back on his heels it must have been nearly too much. However, that will not stop his quest for evils to correct. He'll find some more, even if he has to look in Washington for them.

DIGGING UP GEORGE SPELVIN.

A reader points out the reappearance of the celebrated "dummy" player named George Spelvin in the cast of "Theater," and asks us to account for the use of this stage name. It's been a long time since we have written that story and the exact details begin to grow dim in the mist of the years, but we'll make a stab at it.

* * *

George Spelvin is a pseudonym used for program purposes when the player of some small part does not wish to be identified. It usually occurs in cases of "doubling"—one actor playing two characters in the same cast. Winchell Smith, a prolific and successful playwright of a generation ago, was Mr. Spelvin's father. He used the name so often that the custom became general along Broadway.

* * *

Spelvin's first appearance was in "Brewster's Millions," in 1907. He was praised by the critics and the play was an enormous hit. Winchell Smith got the idea that the name was lucky, and had a George Spelvin in most of his later productions. The actual invention of the name has been attributed to a number of eminent men of the theater, including William Gillette, William Collier, and William Seymour. It is the kind of a name Willie Collier might have thought up.

* * *

Another pseudonym occasionally used for a "doubling" actor is Harry Selby. This was invented by George Haight and H. C. Potter.

* * *

"Dummy" names in programs are fairly common, especially in large productions where numerous players without speaking parts are identified on the programs. These names are usually left to the ingenuity of the press agent who edits the program "copy." For example: About 30 years ago a large musical show came into a Chicago theater, the manager of which was nursing a feud with THE TRIBUNE'S drama critic. Its program contained this line for the first-nighters to chuckle over:

"A Nubian Slave.....Percy Hammond."

LINES FOR A FAMOUS CARTOON.

(McCutcheon's "Indian Summer" will be reprinted Oct. 26.)

When maples flame in the wood lot
The sachems come dressed for their part,
With blankets, and feathers, and war paint,
From each leafy ambush they start;
For the red man is back in the forest,
There are moccasined feet on the trail,
So keep near the fireside this evening
And heed the old grandsire's tale.
The blue council fires are burning,
They signal from hilltop to hill,
And the dancing figures around them
Are part of the crisp evening's chill.
The buck at the edge of the clearing
Scents the air with upflung head—
Is it only the flower of the cardinal
Stains the stream's swift waters red?
The red man has come back to the forest,
To the lakes and the streams that he knew;
Past the rushes and drooping willows
Glides a supple birch bark canoe,
And just where the cat-brier is thickest
Is a portage the warriors know;
They file swiftly by in the twilight
And the leaves flame to watch them go.

S'Amuser.

Another Chapter in a Dog's Life.

When Choppy first found us we expected he would be a handicap to us, but we did not know we would be more of a handicap to him.

Choppy indicates plainly that he considers it no end of a labor to take me around the block each morning at the end of my red leash and to keep me from toppling over, especially on a windy day. I am definitely a nuisance to him. Without me he could get along much faster and could go places he cannot reach when he is lugging me around.

If Choppy were left to his own whimsies he might even find a better place to live. While his attitude shows he considers his present place all right, it also indicates he thinks nothing is so good that it might not be better. He knows a man who has a car in which he loves to ride, and this man said he smiled all the way from the south shore to Evanston and return while riding in his car. There is a look now in Choppy's eyes which says: "Just wait and see."

Then there are his living quarters, which unhappily are also ours, and he quite evidently considers us rank imposters and much in the way. When I sometimes timidly try to push him out of his chair he looks at me with an air of, "O, I say, you are an impossible person." The davenport and two or three chairs likewise belong to Choppy and it looks as if Choppy's "master" and his lady will have to bundle in the 9x12 rug.

By gollies, come next spring we are going to rent a small furnished flat for him, so he can live an untrammeled life. Roy Engel.

TEMPLE BY THE LAKE.

Baha'i Temple, domed from gray to white,
Is tipped with folded wings, all angel-wise,
Symbolic of the peace of prayer that lies
In sanctuaries, be it day or night.
How intricately lovely to our sight,
Few things more exquisite beneath the skies—
A symphony to rest one's weary eyes
Or fill a heavy heart with quick delight.

Nonagonal, its delicate design,
With infinite detail of wonder, shows
Devotion from a people at a shrine.
Whatever one's belief, religion grows
When great harmonic beauty looms divine;
Then blessing from God's heaven overflows.

THE POISONOUS THYROID.

THE thyroid, which lies within the neck in the shape of the letter U, can present about as many vagaries as the weather. None of us can get along without it, while some cannot get along with it. Tho it has no ducts for the purpose of dispatching its output to the circulation, nevertheless its products are absorbed into the blood stream where they aid in regulating intelligence, ambition, and alertness.

Our immediate concern is with the structure when it goes on a rampage—producing too much secretion. Women are more frequently afflicted than men. Staring eyes, nervousness, and underweight are characteristic. With the arms extended and the fingers spread apart, a quick fine tremor may be seen.

When the condition is allowed to proceed, the heart may become involved, thus offering a rather severe threat to life unless proper management is instituted. The general rule among physicians is that whenever the "pump" beats rapidly, and excessive nervousness is observed, the thyroid should be examined without delay. In this connection, the metabolic rate test is of practical value.

The question is often asked—can I be cured without operation? One must be extremely cautious before an affirmative answer is given. I have seen badly poisoned individuals who have been aided by iodine [Lugol's solution], followed by X-ray treatments. All too often, however, within a few months the symptoms return. The trouble was quite too advanced for gentle methods. Only in mild cases is it considered sound practice to temporize with radiotherapy. Improvement will come—yes! But rarely will the victim be cured—that is, if the gland is seriously affected.

The surgical attack is so nearly safe in the hands of a skilled operator that there is little advantage in procrastination. Should positive disturbance [thyrotoxicosis] be identified, most of us will make up our minds to get ready for a trip to the hospital. It should be emphasized, however, that the operation is highly technical and superlative skill is demanded. The anesthetic must be carefully chosen and administered.

Furthermore, no one should be rushed into the procedure without adequate preparation. This will necessitate a week or two—perhaps longer. During the "recess" the patient is observed for nasal infection, and iodine is given in proper doses. This drug may need to be continued for a much longer period if a substantial amount of cardiac strain has been experienced.

The surgeon who presides must exercise great intelligence. How much of the structure shall he remove? How much shall be left? Perhaps it is safer to take more rather than too little as the extract can be fed in adjusted quantities with perfect comfort. In fact, it is not at all uncommon to find that the patient will experience a mild myxedema [insufficient secretion] lasting for a few weeks. But this is not significant as the restoration of function to normal usually ensues promptly. In a few instances, a sufferer may be required to take small quantities of the dried substance for a year.

The lesson which this disease teaches is that we must look carefully for a rational reason in the case of the nervous woman who is terribly tired despite the fact that there is no obvious enlargement about the throat. The gland may lie imbedded so deeply that it cannot protrude. We must recall also that iodine should not be administered for any great length of time. It is our most valuable temporary remedy but is to be used at intervals only.

HEMORRHOIDS.

K. I. writes: What is the treatment for hemorrhoids?

REPLY.

It depends on the type. If they are causing no symptoms, avoiding constipation may be all that is called for. On the other hand, surgery may be required. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on this disorder.

THE TIE THAT BINDS.

J. Q. writes: What is connective tissue?

REPLY.

The substance which binds together and supports the structures of the body. It consists largely of fibrous material and has no other function. It is also deposited in the healing process—for example a scar.

Writers should confine themselves to 200 or 300 words. Give full names and addresses. No manuscripts can be returned. Space for letters is obviously limited. Incoming mail far exceeds it. If a letter is not printed, attribute it to lack of room. Address letters to Voice of the People, THE TRIBUNE.

FROM NOTHING TO NOTHING.

Chicago, Oct. 14.—Mankind, said Thomas Carlyle, the great English sage of the 19th century, walks in a cycle of error, of greater or less degree, inspired creation alternating with destruction and ever in constant movement from nothingness to nothingness. Adverting to the impermanence of man's being, applicable alike to great and small, Carlyle cries out: "Where now is Alexander of Macedon; does the steel host that yelled in fierce battle shouts at Issus and Arbela remain behind him, or have they all vanished utterly?

"Napoleon, too, and his Moscow retreats and Austerlitz campaigns? Was it all other than the veriest specter hunt, which has now, with its howling tumult that made night hideous, flitted away? A little while ago they were not; a little while and they are not, their very ashes are not. Thus, like some wild-flaming, wild-thundering train of heaven's artillery, does this mysterious mankind thunder and flame thru the unknown deep. Thus, like a God-created, fire-breathing spirit host, we emerge from the inane, haste stormfully across the astonished earth, then plunge again into the inane."

Thus thru Carlyle's words are we reassured on one point, namely, that all the Hitlers, Stalins, and other little tin gods of our own troubled times will one day be no more than frightful memories.

HELENE KIDD SNYDER.

SAUCE FOR THE RAIL OWNERS.

Champaign, Ill., Oct. 17.—About 900,000 railroad employés and their dependents—perhaps a total of five million persons—probably can ride free in coaches on any road in the United States. [Perhaps since Oct. 1 they pay the 5 per cent federal tax].

Why not a little sauce for the goose. Few railroads pay any dividends to their stockholders—the owners—who furnish the capital and so the jobs for the employés.

Why could not a 3, 4, or 5 per cent annual dividend be authorized, in equivalent transportation, good only on the system issuing same.

This in a small measure would somewhat compensate the owners, and just to this extent add to the attractiveness of this form of investment, now at a low level. FORNEY WINGARD.

OLD CLOTHING NEEDED.

Evans and some one will call for them.

HE FALLS INTO POETRY.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—On Tuesday I stood at 31st and Pulaski at 6:45 a. m.
The corner was crowded with a hundred women and men,
When after 12 minutes' waiting a street car hove in sight;
Their hearts seemed glad and their faces showed delight.
About half jammed in the car as best they could.
The conductor yelled "That will be all."
The others remained where they stood.
The same thing happened at 30th and 28th,
While at 27th street he picked up a measly eight.
I hope some cold morning when it is raining cats and dogs
That some street car Mogul and a few aldermen, too,
Would have to stand on this corner and get the snifters,
While the wind blows thru their whiskers. CHARLES RAABE.

FROM A WPA WORKER.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—The writer of the editorial, "Drones in the Hive," is certainly not among the unemployed. Has he ever spent countless days at one of those free agencies trying to obtain employment? These agencies have done much toward relieving the unemployment situation, but they are still crowded with those they are unable to place.

With the cost of vital necessities constantly on the uptrend, an 8.5 increase in wages is a puny bribe. If the vote of these "bondsmen" is so important, the temptation should have been much more substantial.

As to self-respect—it has never been lost. Any kind of work is self-respecting, so long as it is honest. There are many workers on WPA who would be glad to have private employment if they were able to obtain it. The "little mouths" at home cannot be fed by good counsel, but a job with a fairly decent wage can feed them.

A SELF-RESPECTING WPA WORKER.

NEGROES AND 4 FREEDOMS.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—I regret that your publication of Mr. King's address to Sen. Lister Hill of Alabama cannot be in every home; especially in the homes of the American Negro. The four freedoms which are so often referred to are just about the lowest form of hypocrisy ever to be attempted upon an intelligent group of people. Unfortunately we can hardly expect a reply from the senator to Mr. King.

When our Negro people read about democracy and the four freedoms everywhere else while they are denied equal rights they know something is wrong.

NORMAN TAYLOR.

SPIDER AS AN AERONAUT.

Evanston, Ill., Oct. 17.—A reader expresses curiosity at seeing long spider filaments in the upper air and desires an explanation. If he could have seen the entire filament he would have discovered a young aeronaut at the end, for spider ballooning is one of the wonders of insect ingenuity.

As ants come to the time of colonizing they are given wings whereby they transport themselves to their new communities and immediately afterward slough off their wings. But young spiders, when the wanderlust attacks them, mount a fence post or other eminence, face the wind [as do human aeronauts when they start flight], eject long filaments which mount to the upper air, and when the adventurer considers them sufficient he loosens himself and away he goes.

Immediately he severs the threads from the spinnerets, then weaves for himself a cozy cradle and floats without concern. When instinct tells him it is time to descend and start life, he draws in the supporting filaments, and down he comes.

All so simple. With us it would be called reason, a very smart procedure, but for the spider it is merely instinct—so we say. Their exodus is in the spring or fall, mostly the fall. Accounts have been given of spider filaments entangling in the masts of ships 200 miles from shore. E. ROBB ZARING.

HIGH SCHOOL ENROLLMENT.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—[Friend of the People.]—In reference to Crane Technical boundary lines: I have a son who wishes to enter Crane High school, which is only one block north of our home. He is refused admission because it is said that he is not in the school district. He also was told to register at the Cregier school, where he must pay carfare and buy lunch in order to attend. Now we cannot afford to send him to this school as our income is small. We see no reason why he cannot attend Crane when other students who live further away can attend. Can you do something to aid our cause?

A. K.

The situation with regard to enrollment in the technical high schools of Chicago is as follows: Regular enrollment in the technical high schools has been limited by the board of education to pupils living in certain fixed areas. For children who do not live in these fixed areas, shop and drawing courses have been established in the local high school of each of the other areas. Boys who carry successfully these shop and drawing courses during their first year in high school are permitted to transfer to the technical school of the district in which they live at the beginning of their second year.

District Superintendent,
Board of Education.

THE WAR ON TWO FRONTS

[Los Angeles Times.]

VALUE OF FLEET IS EXTOLED BY HEAD OF LEAGUE

Navy Day to Be Observed Next Monday.

Sheldon Clark.

Commodore Sheldon Clark, president of the Navy League of the United States, urged yesterday that the American navy be built strong as the surest guaranty of peace. He spoke over W-G-N on a program outlining plans for Navy day, which will be celebrated next Monday.

"There should be no halt in the work of building the navy," he said. "We are a very rich country, vast in extent of territory and great in population. A country, moreover, which has an army diminutive indeed when compared with that of any other first class power. Our foreign policy demands possession of a first class navy. A good navy is not a provocative of war. It is the surest guaranty of peace."

High Peacetime Value.

Clark outlined various noncombatant values of the navy. "It has made important contributions to progress in the field of industry and commercial research, notably aviation, marine engineering and ship construction," he said. "The naval service contributes to the many sciences, such as geography, geology, biology, physics, meteorology, and oceanography.

"Navy day this year means much to every patriotic American citizen. The world is aflame and wars, revolutions, and rebellions are stalking like sepulchral figures on the horizon of peace and security. We need an outstanding navy. Every citizen should appreciate that our country has as its first line of defense a navy outstanding in personnel, equipment, and strategically located in case of attack or emergency.

Must be Kept Strong.

"Respect your navy and its courageous personnel. Support your navy and its high ideals and motives. Be proud of your navy and what it means to world peace. We must keep the navy strong."

Navy day will be marked in the ninth naval district with various ceremonies. The public is invited to the Great Lakes Naval Training station, from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. In the morning there will be a dress parade. The United States Naval Reserve aviation base at Glenview and the naval armory at the foot of Randolph street also will be open to visitors.

NAVY PROGRAM TO BE GIVEN IN DOWNTOWN CLUB

A program, called "Know Your Navy," will be given by the 9th naval district in the Lake Shore club tomorrow evening. Commander Richard F. Whitehead, naval aviation aid to the district commandant, will talk on "Wings of the Navy." Three recently completed motion picture films made by the navy about the navy will be shown. Two dinners will precede the discussions and pictures. At one, Commander Whitehead will be a special guest; at the other Capt. S. C. Loomis, director of the Chicago naval inspection office, will be a guest.

Bring Down Eagle

Harold Langford (left), 17, and his brother, Lawrence, 22, with eagle they shot.

It looked like the biggest hawk they ever had seen as it swooped low over Lawrence Langford, 22 years old, and his brother, Harold, 17, while they were hunting northwest of the city yesterday morning.

They raised their shotguns and fired five shots. Down came the bird—a golden eagle with 7½ foot wingspread. Few men can slay an eagle an remain unmoved, so the Langfords, who live at 2046 North Racine avenue, were proud of their kill last night.

Just how they stand under the law, however, is not clear. United States Marshal W. H. McDonnell said his impression is that killing an eagle may be a federal violation.

JEALOUS MATE PUTS WIFE IN CHAINS; JAILED

Young Mother Locked to Bed; Baby at Side.

Vandalia, Ill., Oct. 19 [Special].—The strange case of a 62 year old farmer who chained his 19 year old wife, with their 2 month old baby at her side, to a bed in their farm home near here was revealed today. The disclosure followed the husband's arrest on a charge of assault with intent to kill.

The assault charge against the farmer, Neal Cahoon, was filed by three men, who accused him of forcing them at the point of a gun to sign a confession of intimacy with his wife, Rosie. The three are Phil P. Baima, section foreman on the Illinois Central railroad, which runs past the Cahoon home, and Charles McNair and Irwin Hilliard, his helpers. They denied Cahoon's accusations.

Sheriff Finds Home Barred.

Armed with a warrant for the farmer's arrest, Sheriff C. F. Cheshier went to the Cahoon home, three miles south of here. Finding the doors padlocked and the windows barred, he called out and was answered by Cahoon's wife, who was inside the home. She said her husband had gone to Vandalia.

The sheriff then returned to this city and arrested Cahoon, who was taken into court and ordered to jail on $1,000 bond in the assault case. Upon questioning Cahoon, the sheriff learned the farmer, who professed jealousy over the attentions of other men to his wife, had locked her in their home. Cheshier compelled the prisoner to surrender his keys and went back to the Cahoon home.

There he unlocked three padlocked doors, one after the other, and found Mrs. Cahoon on the bed with her baby at her side and with a log chain around her neck padlocked to the head of the bed. Another chain, attached to a 60 pound rock, was fastened to her ankle. The windows were boarded up and a lighted coal oil lamp filled the room with stifling fumes, Cheshier said.

Clothes Locked in Corn Crib.

The sheriff released Mrs. Cahoon and asked her to dress and accompany him to town. She protested that she couldn't because her husband had locked her clothes in a corn crib 200 yards from the house. Cheshier then recovered these and brought the young wife and the infant to the home of relatives here.

Asked whether she would bring charges against her husband, Mrs. Cahoon said: "I don't think so. He chained me up several times before because he's afraid I'll run away."

God called you and you went away;
We know there will never be another
To take the place of you, our mother.
The voice is mute and stilled the heart

Concert Recalls 17th Century Music of Italy

BY EDWARD BARRY.

That the art of music is only about 200 years old and that it sprang full blown from the brows of Bach and Handel are impressions which an unwary person could easily get from a study of most present day concert programs. Therefore the concluding concert of the festival of ancient music, given last night at the Goodman theater, was valuable as a corrective as well as for intrinsic musical reasons.

For it revealed the existence of a rich music in 17th century Italy, a music predominantly secular in character which constituted one of the late fruits of the renaissance and which had derived some of its skill and complexity from the magnificent flowering of sacred music that had taken place in the same country 100 years earlier.

This music of Corelli, Fresobaldi, Pasquini, Monteverdi, Gagliano, and Marazzoli shows clearly the breadth and variety of the expressive power which Italian art achieved generations before the maturity of Bach and Handel.

And the works of such later composers as the two Scarlattis Vivaldi, Martini, and Galuppi [also represented on last night's program] reveal a command of musical resource and a resulting flexibility and freedom that the two German masters themselves would not have been ashamed of.

Last night's program was varied and absorbingly interesting. It alternated between grave and gay, and between rich complexity and almost naive simplicity.

The performers were Philip Manuel, Gavin Williamson, and Dorothy Lane, harpsichordists; Leonard Sorkin, Oscar Chausow, and Robert Quick, violinists; Milton Preves, violist; Dudley Powers, cellist; Bruce Foote, baritone, and a group of madrigal singers.

There's special happiness and excitement in the Arthur Meeker family these days, for Mr. Meeker Jr.'s new book, "Ivory Mischief," is the January selection of the Book of the Month club. Young Mr. Meeker's sister, Mrs. Ambrose C. Cramer, had planned a cocktail party for her brother when it was thought that the book would be published this month. Now that its publication date has been put off until January, they have decided to have the party anyway, since Mr. Meeker will be so busy later with the book's promotion that he won't have much time for parties. Mrs. Cramer will entertain for him at a cocktail party on Friday evening.

Altho they're still struggling with the new tax figures, members of the committee in charge of the Passavant hospital benefit performance of the Ice Follies last Wednesday night set the amount it brought in for charity at about $12,500—perhaps a little more.

Invalid Asks Material to Make a Quilt

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

[Activities of the Sally Joy Brown department are sponsored by Chicago Tribune Charities, Inc.]

We feel sure that many readers will be able to assist Mrs. H., who recently wrote:

"Dear Miss Brown: I know that this may seem to be a rather odd request, but I am unable to obtain help from any other source, and thought of you.

"I am a widow, and at present my young son, who earns a very small salary, is supporting me. Our income enables us to purchase only necessities. Unfortunately, my leg was broken in a recent accident, and I am now confined to the house, and find the enforced idleness is making me restless. I would enjoy making a quilt during this time, but am unable to obtain sufficient material. If your readers could supply me with some discarded quilt pieces I would be happy to have them. MRS. C. H."

This address is on the north side of the city, and will be supplied to any reader interested in mailing materials to Mrs. H., since she is unable to call for them.

Symphony and Auditors Enjoy Party Together

BY INDIA MOFFETT.

The party given yesterday afternoon in Orchestra hall by the trustees of the orchestra association for sustaining members of the Chicago Symphony orchestra was a gemütlich occasion. No English synonym would give quite the feeling of the affair, the first annual one for those men and women who by contributing to the orchestra's support have become sustaining members of this organization, which is starting its 51st season as an integral part of Chicago's cultural life.

Every one was in a party mood and attire. The musicians wore deep pink carnations [sent by Mrs. Edward L. Ryerson] on the lapels of their morning coats. The strings players wore theirs on the right and the other musicians on the left. Palms and other greens decorated the stage, making a pleasing background for the orchestra and the harp soloist, Joseph Vito. The program was light enough so that even those husbands who customarily nod during a symphony program kept wide awake, and it is certain that every foot and head in the place kept time when "Papa" Stock and his men played what the conductor announced as "the finest waltz ever written." It was the "Beautiful Blue Danube," of course.

Following the music the hosts and the guests went upstairs to the grand foyer to become better acquainted. Mr. Ryerson, president of the orchestral association, who had made a graceful little speech of welcome in the concert hall, Dr. Stock and Hans Lange, associate conductor, received. Mrs. Telfer MacArthur, chairman of the woman's committee, and some of her assistants served the 1,200 guests with punch, tea, sandwiches and cakes.

Decorating the foyer were bouquets of chrysanthemums from the greenhouse of the MacArthurs, who live in Libertyville. Mrs. Charles H. Swift, Mrs. Clyde M. Carr, Mrs. Frederic W. Upham, Mrs. William Eisendrath Jr., Mrs. Frank Mayer, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur G. Cable, the Bryan Reids, the Donald McPhersons, the Clark Lawrences, Mr. and Mrs. Walter R. Kirk, Mrs. Charles B. Goodspeed, the Charles W. Dempsters, the Joseph T. Ryersons, Dr. and Mrs. Edwin W. Ryerson, the Gustavus F. Swifts, the Roger Fahertys, Dr. and Mrs. E. V. L. Brown, Mrs. Gabriel F. Slaughter and Miss Betty Slaughter, Mrs. Edward A. Leight, and the Morton Bodfishes were some of those present.

Others were Mrs. Frank R. Fuller, who chose to hear the music perched high in the balcony; the Thomas W. Hindes, Blake Blair, the Howell Murrays, the Dwight Orcutts, Mrs. Leonard Karcher, Mrs. George Zendt, the Theodore Shaws, Mrs. DeForest Hulburd and Miss Marie Louise Hulburd, Mr. and Mrs. Kellogg Fairbank Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Ernst von Ammon, Mrs. Herbert Kennedy, Mrs. Walter Cummings and her son, Arthur; the Royden Keiths, Russell Tyson, Mrs. Norval Pierce, Mrs. Welch Dickinson, and the Carl Defebaughs.

INSTALMENT XXXVII.

STILL MISSING.

Dead silence. After the inspector had mentioned Hortense's medicine he had remembered that an audience was present. Horace and I were once more requested to withdraw, but as we reached the passage we both caught the inspector's tense question:

"How long, doctor? Weeks? Months?"

The answer, I fancied, confined itself to a Gallic shrug.

Out of earshot Horace stammered, "What the hell were those fellows buzzing about?"

"You heard it, didn't you? Something to do with some stuff in a bottle Hortense hid away at her bank. Where she got hold of it . . . well, couldn't you and I make a fairly good guess?"

He shook his head, too absorbed in his own sensations to pay much attention. I made him sit down.

"Listen," I said. "Do you think Hortense had much money?"

"All these French servants had money," he muttered. "They didn't spend, they saved. Obviously Hortense had got splendid pickings all these 15 years. What had that got to do with it?"

"Only that she'd have had to pay cash for any drugs she might happen to want. Any notion how she came by the big stack of thousand franc notes I saw her counting the very day she was killed?"

My words appalled me much more than they did Horace. Even as I answered his eager questions, I tumbled to my mistake. Hortense hadn't been paying out money. Money had been paid her—for services she was quite willing to perform. . . .

Horace saw that. "She hadn't the brains," he insisted. "Just as you pointed out before. O, no, not by herself!"

I left him sitting in the hall, stunned as by some blinding light.

• • •

This, at least, was damnably certain: Manx could answer no further questions, and if an arrest warrant had been brought, it wasn't yet being served.

If the remarks we'd heard meant what I took them to mean, had the hardness of his arteries been artificially induced? Say Hortense had been feeding her mistress some strange compound. There was nothing to prevent her giving her hated rival the same treatment. Long arrears of animosity had gone into yesterday's explosion of rage. Whatever the facts, Manx was a hospital case now.

Funny if Manx killed Hortense only to find that she, his battered victim, hr! finished him!

There in Cousin Lou's room I started to laugh. I went on, uncontrollably, till the inspector stuck his head in the door.

"Mademoiselle seems hysterical," he accused. "Is anything wrong?"

Right then I blew up.

"Wrong? O, no! It's true my hostess was poisoned, and the next night I was attacked in my bed. That the cook threw herself out a window and now the butler tumbles down in a fit, but what's wrong about any of these little incidents?"

Now I'd started I made the utmost of my tantrums. How much longer was I to be kept in this apartment? What had they got on me that I had to go on being treated as a class A suspect? The inspector went on eyeing me queerly and presently spoke in a soothing tone.

"A little patience, mademoiselle. You will wish, I hope, to assist justice in every possible way." Closing the door, he purred softly, "Is it that you are afraid—yes, I repeat it—afraid to remain in this very commodious apartment?"

"What, now? Well, hardly. I might have felt nervous about it before——"

"You are not, then, dreading another visitation?"

"Of course not! Are you?"

The look he gave me wasn't yes and it wasn't no. "The building will be carefully watched," he promised, and with that he went out.

Stretcher bearers arrived and lugged Manx off in an ambulance. Our daily woman turned up. Horace and I agreed we'd let her get breakfast and take our lunches and dinners outside.

Not one mention of Dr. Borosh—at any rate, not in my hearing. Yet I knew in my bones the bottle Hortense had secreted must mean the "other" drug said to have disappeared months ago. I wished Phil were here. He, I believed, could have told me the vital things I was burning to know. To be sure, there was one point Horace could settle for me right now.

I went along to the study and began, "Mr. Rentrew——" Then I stopped. The inspector was there. He was holding Cousin Lou's rosary in his hands.

"You are certain, Monsieur, about your sister-in-law's strong prejudice against Roman Catholicism?"

"Why, naturally I'm certain!" Horace sounded hurt. "I'd say there wasn't much I didn't know about her likes and dislikes . . . till just lately, that is."

"Ah! And precisely when, monsieur, did the alteration in madame become noticeable to you?"

"I—it's not easy to say. Possibly I was most struck by it two or three weeks ago. When she first got back from down south."

Restless, the inspector handed the rosary back as an object of no real interest. He had seen me. His face hardened, and before I could understand Horace's frantic signals he was pushing me across the hall into the derelict drawing room.

"Mademoiselle," he pounced, "it appears you have been concealing important evidence. Recite instantly all, yes, all that occurred during your visit to Mme. Estrella two afternoons ago!"

I'd been expecting this onslaught. As I told Horace 20 minutes later I was really relieved to get the whole business off my chest.

"I thought you would be," he said. "And, anyway, the inspector didn't seem surprised. O, I don't mean that you'd been there. Only about Borosh's drugs. It didn't matter if my note reached him too late. He says they were keeping an eye on Borosh because of other things they'd heard—and, of course, because his sister was one of the nursing home visitors."

"A glass eye?" I asked, witheringly. "They managed to let Borosh sneak right away and get drowned."

"Yes, and you can take it from me, our police guys are feeling pretty darned sore. O, well! I reckon all of us slip on our jobs. I'm going to mix a drink."

"Wait!" There's something I'd awfully like to know. How soon after Cousin Lou went south did she send Hortense home?"

"How soon? Why, what——" Suddenly Horace seemed to get my meaning. He took out a pocket diary and consulted it. "Yes, here's the date: February 22d--George Washington's birthday. I know, because I told Hortense I wanted chicken gumbo and I had to show her how to make it. Nearly three months ago!"

We looked hard at each other. I said:

"Three entire months since Cousin Lou and her cook were together! Yes. . . . And when did Alixe get the sack?"

"Her! You don't imagine——" He paused. "No, I can't tell you that date, even approximately. Marise never mentioned it till she blew in here all alone with just a Provençal chauffeur. Say, are you thinking some more about what the police doctor was mumbling? Gosh! You don't seriously suppose this woman Alixe was doping Marise with—with some unheard of vitamin stuff?"

I told him I was long past supposing anything; but naturally that was a lie.

• • •

The Jourdains, husband and wife, were serving mid-day drinks to working men in dirty blue blouses. Once more I got the barricade of hard stares. Their niece still hadn't come home.

"But aren't you worried? Haven't you reported it to the police?"

"Absurd, mademoiselle!" Jourdain smiled. "These young girls, so independent, so casual. There is no reason for alarm."

I hung on, angling for anything I could get. Alixe had been ill recently. Mightn't she be ill again?

Madame said, "Ah, no, mademoiselle is mistaken! Alixe enjoys perfect health."

"I heard her say she had been to a doctor."

I saw their eyes gravitate for an instant to a noon edition of a paper I had seen. It lay face up on the bar, and the front page contained a budding hint that Dr. Borosh might have been the victim of foul play.

Good Morning!

There are just three things wrong with this picture—the length, Dutchy costumes, and the heroine's voice—otherwise the piece is an entertaining ice skating film.

The big feature about "Ice-Capades" is, of course, the Ice-Capades company, with its internationally known stars. . . . You will be thrilled by the exploits of Dorothy Lewis and such supporting performers as the jitterbug skater, Lois Dworshak, the Czecho-Slovakian dancer; Vera Hruba, English Belita, Phil Taylor, stilt specialty skater (is HE a wonder!), and his daughter, Megan, world's champion figure skater. . . . Jackson and Lyman are an amusing comedy team.

Speaking of comedy—you'll have fun watching the activities of Jerry Colonna, the pop-eyed chap with the black walrus mustache, and Barbara Jo Allen, who is radio's Vera Vague. . . . Also, such a laugh as Alan Mowbray is in a certain café scene. . . . Phil Silvers is a scream, too, as a producer.

The story revolves about the adventures of Dorothy Lewis, wanted by immigration authorities, and James Ellison as a news reel photographer, who by "faking" her as a well known skater whose picture he has failed to get, stirs up plenty of trouble for plenty of folks.

The crux situation leads the principals into assorted difficulties, brings into their lives a famous theatrical producer, and finally spells for Boy and Girl, romance, with a large "R."

Not much of a story, but it's all right, and you'll love the skating until you become satiated with it.

If these people who make movies ever could learn when to STOP!

See you tomorrow.

Looking at Hollywood

By John Chapman

Hollywood, Cal., Oct. 19.—Sunday—A dab of desk work and then two parties, first a cocktail party at Chasen's in honor of Eddie Moran, script writer, and his bride, pretty Janice Dawson, and the guests include Bert Lahr, the Norman McLeods, Dorothy Parker, and Alan Campbell, and Stu Erwin. The Morans are unique among Hollywood newlyweds—they got married in Las Vegas but they didn't elope. . . . Next, to Edgar Selwyn's, it being Edgar's 66th birthday and he's throwing a dinner for himself. We quiz him about his recent production of "The Wookey" on Broadway, and he tells an interesting tale of the sound effects, which are real air raid stuff from London. The noises came over on movie film and had to be put on discs for the theater. The MGM sound department here did this tricky job.

Monday—Vernon Patterson, teacher of journalism at El Monte High school, which is a long way thru Los Angeles, has asked me to talk to his class about newspaper work. So I do. It's a tossup who's more frightened, me or the kids, but we all survive. . . . In the evening to Warners' for a showing of the RAF documentary, "Target for Tonight," a splendid thing because it is unpretentious, real and truly exciting.

Tuesday—To RKO and on the "Joan of Paris" set for a moment, but it's between shots and nothing much doing. And so to Universal, where Brod Crawford and Lon Chaney Jr. are staging a big fight for "North to the Klondike," and find the studio bearing up most bravely under the temporary loss of Deanna Durbin. Everybody's working just the same and no flags are at half mast. . . .

Wednesday—Typewriter day, and long and painful, and then to the Bliss-Hayden theater to see a performance of "Don't Feed the Actors," an old comedy by Jerry Horwin and Catherine Turney. The Horwin-Turney team wrote John Barrymore's phenomenal "My Dear Children." Tonight's play is an innocuous backstage something, but what interests me is the playhouse. It's a tiny affair into which anybody can walk and has no box office. The operators are Leila Bliss and Harry Hayden, and they run an acting school. For $50 a month a student can act in plays and be caught by movie agents and producers. Some studios use the theater as a stock farm, sending young hopefuls there for training. Metro, for instance, pays a would-be star whose looks it likes $25 a week and sends him to Bliss-Hayden to find out if he can act. Recent alumnæ are Veronica Lake, who has done fine, and Jane Russell, Howard Hughes' much ballyhooed discovery.

Thursday—To 20th-Fox for a gab with Jack Oakie, who is making an added scene with Walter Brennan for "Rise and Shine." Jack is one of the Wonder Boys of Hollywood, for after a long career in movieland he refuses to stop bouncing like a jitterbug. . . . In the evening to Walter Wanger's fancy dress première of "Sundown," and I am most regretfully disappointed. The African background—shot around the Acoma Indian reservation in New Mexico—is magnificent, but the story is slow.

Friday—A bit of a holiday, but first to Universal to watch Bud Abbott and Lou Costello making finishing shots on "Keep 'Em Flying," which is to have the biggest promotion campaign the studio ever expended on a picture.

Saturday—A day at Metro among such characters as Robert Taylor, Mervyn Le Roy, Billy Grady, Nelson Eddy, and Jeanette MacDonald, out of whom some copy might develop.

Farce Depends on Time Tested Gags for Laughs

"WESTERN UNION, PLEASE."

Farce in three acts by Frances Goodrich and Albert Hackett. Directed by Arthur Sircom. Setting by Donald Oenslager. Presented by Aldrich and Myers in the Studebaker theater, Sunday evening, Oct. 19, 1941.

THE CAST.

Danny Daley.....Charles Butterworth
Jennie Daley.....Ruth Weston
Aunt Aurora.....Mabel Paige
Joe Graybell.....Philip Faversham
Alice Daley.....Frances Reid
Thaddeus Taylor.....Watson White
Messenger Boy.....William H. Callahan
Melinda.....Nina Foch
Betty.....Peggy Van Vliet
Brian Foley.....John Shellie
Hal Stoddard.....Otto Hulett
George Gillespie.....Robert Toms

BY CECIL SMITH.

Since a farce is judged according to the number of laughs it produces, "Western Union, Please" [which resumed its original title last night after being known on tour for a fortnight as "Father's Day"] may be said to have registered a moderate, middle of the road success at the Studebaker theater last evening. While the management is scarcely entitled to advertise, in traditional promotional vocabulary, that you'll scream, you'll split your sides, you'll roll in the aisles, still the new piece undeniably does elicit laughs with a frequency and volume which may be described as median, or average.

For those who are carefree and merry by temperament, and who can enjoy an evening of clean fun no matter how many times they have had almost exactly the same fun before, "Western Union, Please" is the proper prescription. Mr. Butterworth is droll, in his prim, longfaced way, and his collaborating players are above the ordinary in deftness and wit. The whole performance has considerable sparkle, except when the actors are required to spend their time fruitlessly upon situations inundated by sentimental hokum.

There is no need to deliberate carefully upon the plot, which brings Mr. Butterworth back home in the uniform of a Western Union messenger, after an inexplicable absence of 10 years. On the very day of his return he has been declared legally dead, and maybe you don't think it is a nuisance to an energetic widow like Ruth Weston to have a live husband interfering with her plan to collect insurance and sell the house.

An inescapable aura of familiarity hovers about the story, which is embellished by several well worn strands of counterplot. Needless to say, the shyster business man who wants to buy the house too cheap is outwitted, the young lovers recover from their tiff and point their chins toward the altar, and Mr. Butterworth and Miss Weston see a new and beautiful connubial sympathy in the offing for them.

Since Mr. Butterworth has been courageous enough to return to the speaking stage, I wish there were more to say about him than there obviously is. A rather rudimentary kind of underplaying is his stock in trade, and he handles the device well. He lacks both the incisiveness and the suspense of Victor Moore's style, which is cut off much the same bolt of goods; and without denying his competence I have to confess that I found him monotonous by the middle of the second act.

Miss Weston is able to create a good deal of mirth with her dry and spare technique, Mabel Paige's deaf old aunt, always out of the current of events and always feeling mistreated, is a work of near genius, and one of the best performances of the season. Philip Faversham and Frances Reid are expert and likeable as the youngsters. John Shellie and Otto Hulett give distinction to shorter parts.

Fresh fruit probably is the best all-round dessert, but even fresh fruit can grow tiresome if it's served meal after meal. A refrigerator cake or pudding now and then satisfies a natural craving for sweets and relieves dessert monotony.

One of the best and easiest of refrigerator desserts to make is the cookie pudding. You begin with large round chocolate wafers, or the smaller vanilla wafers, and put them together in a roll with whipped cream filling. Chilled for several hours the roll may be sliced diagonally to make interesting looking servings.

Equal parts whipped cream and thick apple butter make a good filling for such a cookie pudding. A cup of whipped cream and a fourth cup marmalade, mixed, also give an appealing flavor, especially with chocolate cookies.

Chocolate or vanilla wafers may be used in place of ladyfingers to make a peppermint refrigerator cake such as this one.

Peppermint Refrigerator Cake.
[Serves 8 to.]
½ pound peppermint candy
½ cup milk
1 tablespoon plain gelatin
2 tablespoons cold water
1½ cups heavy cream, whipped
1 dozen ladyfingers, split

Put candy in a cloth bag and pound with a hammer to crush it. Add to milk and heat in double boiler until melted. Sprinkle gelatin over cold water and let soften for 5 minutes. Dissolve in hot peppermint mixture. Chill mixture until it thickens, then whip until light and fold in whipped cream. Line mold with waxed paper and cover bottom with a layer of ladyfingers. Add half the peppermint mixture, then another layer of the cake, the rest of the filling, and, finally, the remaining ladyfingers. Chill until firm. Top servings with shaved sweet chocolate, if desired.

The apple-marshmallow mixture in this next recipe may be made into a molded refrigerator cake such as the one just discussed, with layers of ladyfingers, cookies, or cake or cookie crumbs separating the layers of apple.

Apple-Mallow Refrigerator Pudding.
[Serves Six.]
3½ pounds tart apples
[About 8 large apples]
2 dozen marshmallows
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
¼ teaspoon salt
Cookie or cake crumbs.

Cook apples with just enough water to keep them from scorching. Put thru a sieve or food press, and add marshmallows, orange rind, and salt. When marshmallows have softened in hot sauce whip mixture until light. Fill dessert glasses which have been lined with cookie or cake crumbs. Chill for several hours. Serve topped with whipped cream.

★ THRU THE LOOKING GLASS ★

When bleached hair gets brittle and refuses to take kindly to continued attempts at glorification, it's time for the woman who owns it to make a momentous decision. She should either quit her attempts to be blond or should start on a campaign of reconditioning, no matter how much it costs in time and money.

After years of bleaching, especially if it hasn't been too expert and there hasn't been much thought given to keeping the hair healthy, the texture of hair changes. It becomes brittle and lusterless and it takes on a brassy tinge that is probably the most unattractive color that hair can assume. It makes the skin look dreadful, because there is complete lack of harmony with the natural skin tone. Changing bleaches and operators won't help when the hair has reached this extreme stage. The hair shaft just won't take any more.

If the woman is determined to continue to bleach she must be prepared to give her hair more time and attention than it probably ever had before. Professional treatments will be quicker and more effective than home treatments. Good medication, scalp massage and brushing will be part of the reconditioning job. It may take six months to restore the hair to softness, but unless the condition is corrected the woman's hair will be just about ruined.

Bleaching must always be balanced with intelligent care that compensates for its effect. It's just not possible to expect even the most expert applications of bleach to be successful forever unless you guard hair health every step of the way.

Bundling?

The coziest newspaper note of the 1941-'42 season is from the Democrat of Elsberry, Mo., home of Albert Mitchell, the Answer Man:

"Mrs. Lizzie Stone has returned from a three weeks' visit with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Stone of Winfield. She and Mrs. Stone tacked several comforts during her visit, in anticipation of keeping warm this winter."

Care Nathan Hale.

Lynn Gardner, singer with Will Bradley's orchestra, who is making a guest appearance over W-G-N this evening on The Affairs of Tom, Dick and Harry, was asked to have her music sent to the studio by messenger in advance of rehearsal. She herself was to come this afternoon for rehearsal.

"You'll know it's the right place by the statue of Nathan Hale in front of the building," Miss Gardner was told.

The singer got things a little mixed, for her music arrived at the studio addressed "W-G-N Studio building, 441 North Michigan avenue, c/o Nathan Hale.

By Way of Report.

A highly useful gift for a soldier at camp is the little pocket size Soldiers' Data Book got out by Eugene Whitmore, who was himself a soldier in the last war and remembered that a soldier never had any place to write down anything. The little book, which sells for a dollar [and has sold upwards of 100,000 copies], has place for a day by day recording of what a soldier learns and sees and where he travels, a place to list officers' names, space for names and addresses of army friends, for records of personal property and serial numbers of watches and radios, and for service records. It has considerable army information printed in the pages at the front, including the field equipment of enlisted men. It fits neatly into a soldier's breast-pocket. . . . The Auditorium Music Foundation switchboard operator answers incoming calls with "Good morning. Help save the Auditorium!" . . . The wearing of red dresses on blue Monday by the 75 women employés at the Kiwanis International headquarters has been so successful that the idea is spreading thru the building at 520 North Michigan avenue. Today the men in the office plan to wear red ties and the building elevator men plan to wear red carnations.

There's Glamor for Gala Days in New Coats

BY REA SEEGER.

There are all kinds of decorative glamor in the newest evening coats. What with color, contrast, fur trim or gold or silver braid they provide everything needed for gala occasions. Some all white wools are spellbinders, cut with dash and swagger in wide skirted models. Some are belted to accent a bloused back, some have nutria fur collars, others have nutria pocket flaps, and still others have clusters of mink tails fastened to the collar and the pockets.

Chamois is another winning color, for it's flattering and picturesque, and different from the usual whites and beige. It's a gold chamois shade and looks good enough to eat. Brown fur tails trim and accent this shade, too. All linings are the blending color of the wool.

New dull black wool coats have the swank of gold military braid trim along the tailored collar and the deep side patched-on pockets. . . . The same idea is worked on white, too. . . . These are running the bright red wool models a good race for popularity.

Emerald green wool coats come in both the braided affairs and the primly tailored ideas with either large covered buttons or the filigree gold or silver metal discs. Beads of many colors combine with the gold and silver braid most effectively.

Velvet coats in coal black are annual arrivals. This year they are every bit as luxurious and beautiful as the wools. Most of the velvets have clear white satin linings and cozy interlinings. Wide, loose sleeves end in turned back cuffs of vivid scarlet with gold embroidery. Ermine tails trim other finds, and kolinsky and wine red velvet contrast more decorated black velvets. Huge deep pockets on both wool and velvet coats boast elaborate embroidered and braided patterns, usually in handsome scrolls.

Long capes are especially dramatic for winter, long wool affairs in pale gold, in gay green, in star sapphire blue with the deep yoke appliqued in cerise wool scroll pattern, and the swashbuckling blacks with the exaggerated shoulders agleam with shining gold or silver braid. Capes or coats, whatever you decide, or even one of each, you have complete collections from which to choose if you shop now!

Discussion of Illness Is Not for the Child

By GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

"I've had measles," said Debby, hopefully.

"O, those aren't anything," said Betty, throwing cold water on her aspirations with gusto. "My auntie says nerves are the very worst things in the world. They drive you crazy sometimes and you never get over them."

"Has your aunt got them right now?" asked Betty, warming to the subject.

"Yes," replied Sally, "but I don't think they're catching, and she can't have them very badly because I went right close up to her and I couldn't see one little spot, even."

Such a conversation does sound ludicrous issuing from the lips of mere babies, and this particular episode probably wasn't harmful. But seriously, children should not be allowed to overhear a lot of talk about sickness, pain, and suffering. They may not understand much of it, but on the other hand often an impression is made. It's difficult to tell whether children think about what they hear, and perhaps secretly worry, or whether they just toss the whole thing aside and forget it.

If young Billy, for example, hadn't heard all about his cousin's unexpected difficulties after an appendix operation he wouldn't have been as wrought up and nervous when his turn came to have his tonsils removed.

According to CULBERTSON

Copyright: 1941: By Ely Culbertson.

The 1941 National Bridge Examination starts today. For the benefit of readers who may have missed last week's announcement, here is a brief résumé of the conditions:

Every day in this column, exclusive of Sunday, I shall pose one or two questions on bidding or play. Exactly one week later the official answer will be published, together with the number of points of demerit for this or that incorrect answer. Every examinee automatically begins with 1,000 points. He easily can keep his own running score by successively deducting demerits according to stipulation. Or, if he chooses, he can send his answers to me in weekly batches, in care of this paper, each week's envelope to be postmarked before 8 p. m. of the Sunday at the week's end. I shall score these answers and, when the exam is over, send signed certificates of merit to those readers who come out with master, expert, or advanced rating [according to the schedule twice published last week]. This service is, of course, entirely free of charge.

TODAY'S QUESTION.

Question 1: Rubber bridge; both sides vulnerable. The bidding proceeds:

North	East	South	West
1 no trump	Pass	?

You are South, and hold: ♠K J 5 4 2 ♥A Q 10 9 7 ♦6 3 ♣5.

What call do you make?

Answer will appear next Monday.

TODAY'S HAND.

East, dealer.
North-South vulnerable.

NORTH
♠Q J 9 5 3 2

♣7 3

WEST

♦K 9 3

SOUTH
♠A K 10 8 7 6

♣A 6

The bidding:

East	South	West	North
1 heart	1 spade	4 hearts	4 spades
5 hearts	5 spades	[final bid]

East-West should have bid six hearts, to settle for a small loss, instead of passing and risking a big loss.

West opened the king of hearts, and East overtook with the ace, to lead the queen of clubs. South won and methodically went about the correct elimination play.

One round of trumps was followed by a heart ruff in dummy. A club lead now forced the opponents on lead and compelled them either to "break" diamonds or to give declarer a ruff in dummy and a diamond discard in his own hand. Declarer did not care which opponent won the club. A diamond lead from either of them would restrict his loss in that suit to one trick.

Devotion to Business May Ruin Marriage

BY DORIS BLAKE.

[Copyright: 1941: By News Syndicate Co., Inc.]

Altho men are so often accused of loving their business more than they love their wives, there comes a time when their wives mean more to them than their business. They realize that in slaving to make a living they have not planned their home lives as efficiently as they have their office lives, and thus their domestic existence totters on the verge of bankruptcy, or else goes into bankruptcy completely.

In support of this is the case of a heartbroken husband whose wife, left alone too much, has found another love and wants to leave her husband. We don't think this situation is right. We feel sympathetic toward the hard working husband and blame the wife for not insisting that her man devote more of his time to her, and also blame her for not being the loyal helpmate to her husband that she should have been.

We feel that there must have been many times when she could have encouraged her husband to bring home his business associates for dinner. She would not only have been helping him but she would have seen more of her husband as well, and thus not have been subject to those spells of loneliness which, no doubt, prompted her to seek companionship elsewhere. Our unhappy correspondent writes:

"Altho my wife is beautiful, how a man could be such a cad as to undermine and usurp another man's marital contentment is too much for me. To give up my wife without a good fight to hold her would be yielding to failure and giving up everything I ever cherished."

We advise the man NOT to give up his wife. He should first "have it out" with her, insist that they start over again, and build a new castle of dreams over the ruins of the old one.

Oct. 20, 1941.

Universal day—Emotions hard to keep under control. Don't run around in circles.

Your personal year—For the benefit of those who don't know how the personal year is worked out, here is the formula: Take the number of the month of your birth, add it to the number of the day of the month of your birth, and then add the present year. Notice you do not add the year of your birth—that would give us your birthpath. So suppose you were born on Oct. 20, today's date. You would add 10 for October, 20 for the date, and 1941 for the year. Ten plus 20 plus 1941 equals 45. Now reduce that sum to a sifigle digit, four plus five, and you get nine. That is the personal year for any one born on Oct. 20 in any year. Next year those born on Oct. 20 of any year will have a one personal year because we will be adding 1942.

Would you like to know your own personal numbers for each day of the coming year? Follow directions on the coupon below and send for complete calendar with daily, monthly, and yearly guide for 1942.

CARDINALS WIN; BEARS CRUSH LIONS, 49 TO 0

HEY, MINNESOTA! MICHIGAN HAS A TRICK OF YOURS

And It Caught N.U. Fast Asleep.

Games This Week

Minnesota at Michigan.
Northwestern at Ohio State.
Iowa at Purdue.
Indiana at Wisconsin.
Illinois at Notre Dame.
Duquesne at Marquette.
Wayne at Michigan State.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Michigan's undefeated football team charges at Minnesota, defending Big Nine champion, this week and one of its weapons of attack should be most familiar to the Gopher coaching staff. The pass play with which Michigan scored its first touchdown on Northwestern Saturday is the same play that Minnesota used to defeat Pittsburgh in 1934 and make possible a national title.

Seven years ago, the Gophers defeated Pittsburgh, 13 to 7, and the scoring play involved a fake line plunge—remember Stan Kostka and Sheldon Beise, Gopher full backs?—and a lateral pass followed by a forward pass. As Kostka plunged, he handed the ball to the quarter back, Glenn Seidel, who then lateraled to the right flank of the Gopher line to Pug Lund. Lund ran a few steps, simulating a sweeping run, and then threw to Bob Tenner, an end, who ran eight yards for the touchdown.

Last Saturday Michigan's Bob Westfall plunged at the Northwestern line, handed the ball to George Ceithaml, Wolverine quarter back, who lateraled to Tom Kuzma. Kuzma then threw to his end, Harlin Fraumann, in the end zone for the score. Despite the maneuvering of Westfall, Ceithaml, and Kuzma, which is designed to sidetrack the attention of the defending half backs, Northwestern stands convicted of gross negligence. The indictment is based on the fact that the scoring play was made on fourth down with nine yards to gain for a first down.

Plain as a Nose on a Face.

In this situation in the first quarter of the game the defense expects a forward pass. Yardage requirement forced Michigan to pass since any gain less than nine yards would be failure and the ball would have gone to Northwestern on downs. Without knowing the specific assignments of the defending half backs, it still is apparent, from the picture published yesterday morning in THE TRIBUNE, that the defending left half back, Ike Kepford, made his first move to cover Fraumann only when he saw the ball in the air.

This picture also clearly showed Don Clawson, left line backer, and Don Johnson, Northwestern center, who backed up the right side of the Wildcat line. They are in position to stop a line plunge or short pass. The picture showed that Bob Motl, Northwestern left end, who had entered the game only seven plays before, was the only Wildcat to rush Kuzma as he passed. Northwestern's left tackle, Alf Bauman, never got past the line of scrimmage and Bob Kolesar, Michigan guard, blocked Bauman by himself.

N. U. Outsmarted Again.

Michigan had prepared for this pass play by using the same preliminaries on second down. Westfall, Ceithaml, and Kuzma handled the ball. Kuzma chose to run and was thrown for a four yard loss. The repetition of the ball handling possibly indicated another run to Northwestern's defense. Unfortunately for this premise, one cannot neglect the facts of fourth down and nine yards to gain. Moreover, on the preceding down [the third] Kuzma had passed successfully to Fraumann for eight yards. This should have made the defense pass conscious.

Michigan was just as cagy with the pass which won the game in the fourth period. First down forward passes are thrown so frequently that it is routine to expect them, but Michigan's winning pass from Kuzma to Joe Rogers involved a fake that broke up the defending secondary so Rogers could take the throw.

They "Set It Up."

The Wolverines frequently used a half back in motion. This back, Paul White, started in motion toward the east sideline on first down. The play

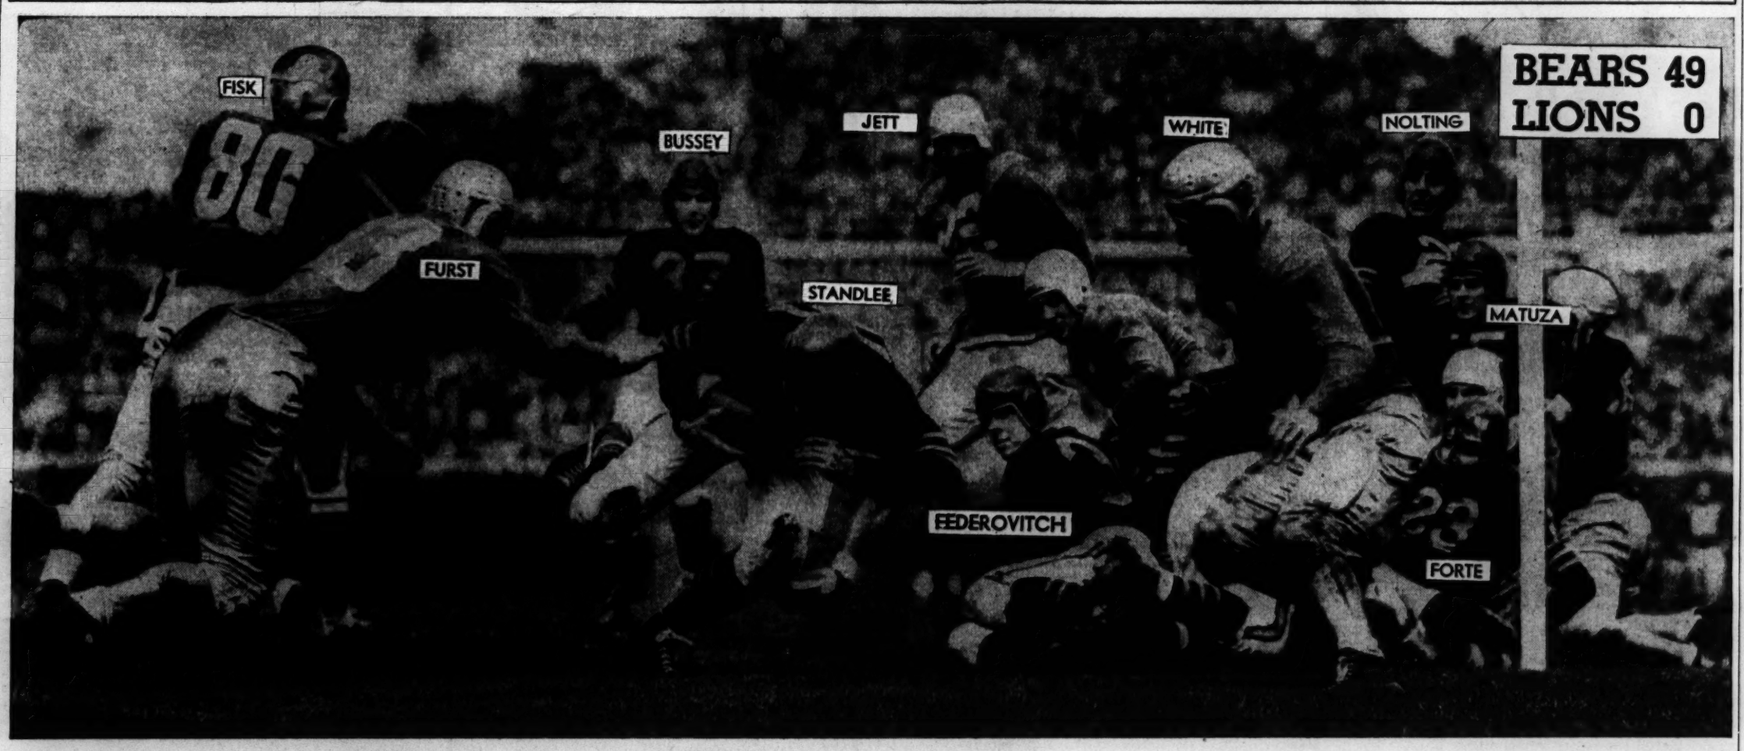
NO PLACE TO GO BUT AHEAD, SO BEARS' STANDLEE OBLIGES



Norm Standlee, Bears' back, cuts to right for two yards and Chicago's second touchdown in yesterday's rout of the Detroit Lions, 49 to 0, before a crowd of 29,980 in Wrigley field. Not a Lion tackler put a hand on Standlee as he drove for the score. The victory was the fourth straight for the champions and marked their first shutout of an opponent this season. Ten Bears took part in the scoring, Joe Maniaci being the only one to make two touchdowns. The Chicagoans boosted their season point total to 175, an average slightly under 44 per game. BY EDWARD PRELL.

Joe Louis has a powder-puff punch and the Yankees of Ruth's and Gehrig's day were pop fly hitters. Now you take the Bears. Yesterday ten of those 33 black and orange shirted giants participated in what can be termed a scoring orgy.

If it had been a boxing match there would have been cries from the 29,980 spectators in Wrigley field to stop it. With the bewildered Detroit Lions helpless to do anything about it, the National Football league champions rolled on to a 49 to 0 triumph, making each touchdown count for seven points on six kicks and a surprise pass which wound up the foggy afternoon's parade of points.

Only Joe Maniaci made more than one touchdown, and this transpired after Gary Famiglietti had been given several chances to hammer the ball over. Co-touchdown scorers with Maniaci were Hugh Gallarneau, Norman Standlee, George [One Play] McAfee, Ray [Scooter] McLean, and Bill Osmanski.

Two Extra Points for Maniaci.

Maniaci picked up two additional points after making his touchdowns. Dick Plasman kicked two, and Bob Snyder and Joe Stydahar each made one. Ken Kavanaugh, the 10th Bear to score, snared Young Bussey's pass after Osmanski's fourth quarter touchdown.

At the end of the third quarter the champions had matched their average of 42 points scored in three previous league battles—or workouts—this season. They boosted their total to 175, or an average slightly under 44 per game. And, just for the record, it was the first game in the four the Bears held their opponents scoreless.

The crowd had reason to be impatient at the outset, for the Bears waited until seven minutes had passed in the first quarter before the scoreboard boy went to work. He was busy in the second quarter when the north siders stepped up the tempo to lead, 28 to 0, at half time. Fourteen more points developed in the third quarter and seven in the final period.

Hold McAfee to One Touchdown.

The Lions scored a moral victory, holding McAfee to a single touchdown. McAfee produced it by taking a lateral from Young Bussey on Detroit's 15 yard line and putting on one of his swaying touchdown runs. Later he pitched a perfect pass to Ken Kavanaugh, but the big end dropped it. The Bears' pass receivers weren't clicking yesterday and you can gather they'll catch it from the big, bad Bear, Coach George Halas, when they go to work tomorrow preparing for Sunday's game with the Pittsburgh Steelers.

There wasn't a touchdown forward pass. All except one were carried over on power plays and sweeps, tho passes helped in the marches down the field. The exception was the most spectacular play of the day, a sixty-one yard punt return by McLean with only seconds left in the second quarter.

The Lions made the first scoring gesture, an unsuccessful thirty yard field goal attempt by Chuck Hanneman early in the first quarter after moving down there following the kickoff. Bob Swisher picked up the ball, which had been partially blocked, and came back to the champions' 27.

Gallarneau Takes It Over.

Important plays in the opening scoring drive were Sid Luckman's twenty yard dash down the sidelines and his pass in the flat to Gallarneau, whose run made it a twenty-one yard gain. Another flat pass by Luckman was caught by Osmanski, who ran past Alex Wojciechowicz and finally bounced out three yards from a score. Gallarneau went over from the 1½ yard line, Detroit having been penalized for holding.

The Bears' next scoring threat was a wild field goal attempt by Leo Artoe from the 26 yard line. A min-

PAT HARDER FILLS FAMOUS BROGANS FOR WISCONSIN

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Madison, Wis., Oct. 19.—The Badgers may not always win, but Wisconsin gets the full backs.

Pat Harder.

The current run on full backs isn't exactly new, for the Badgers have had 'em here or there in other days, but now they are showing up in an unbroken string. There was Eddie Jankowski. Howie Weiss followed. He stepped out and George Paskvan stepped in. They were all alike—tough, rough, and usually unstoppable. Now the Badgers are able to introduce Marlin Harder, whose first name is so fancy that the boys just decided it would be simpler to call him Pat. It was Harder who yesterday led Wisconsin to its 23 to 0 victory over Iowa, kicking a field goal from 37 yards out and scoring two touchdowns.

Doesn't Do Things by Halves.

Harder, only a sophomore, has a lot of chalk line fields ahead of him unless he stumbles over a text book, but his coach, Harry Stuhldreher, already has stamped him as a youngster with an indelible football trade mark.

"He's the kind who doesn't do things by halves," says his coach. "He practices as if he were in a real game instead of a rehearsal. Give him the ball in a signal drill and he runs not the customary five or ten yards but fifty yards, always dodging as if he actually saw hostile tacklers aiming to bring him down. He not only has football ability, but also a desire to put it to use. It's the latter, along with the former, that is going to send him places."

Stuhldreher, naturally, hopes that the boy will be sent across the goal line of Wisconsin's future foes, not once, but many times.

A Star in Other Sports, Too.

Any doubt as to Harder being a natural is easily dispelled by a glance at his athletic achievements as a performer for Washington High in Milwaukee. For two years he was a prep standout on the gridiron. He

MILLER ELECTED HEAD OF AMATEUR SKATING UNION

Cedar Rapids, Ia., Oct. 19 [Special].—Pete Miller of Chicago was elected president of the Amateur Skating Union of America as the two day annual convention ended here today.

Pete Miller.

Miller, a Tribune A. A. official, will retire as president of the Illinois Skating association, a position he has held for two years. He is an authority on speed skating, and was named coach of the 1940 Olympic ice skating team.

Develops National Champions.

As coach of the Catholic Youth organization skaters, consistent winners in the Silver Skates tournament of THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Miller developed Leo Freisinger, national and North American champion, and Vic Ronchetti.

John F. Shannon of Troy, N. Y., was chosen vice president; L. W. Johnson of Minneapolis, Minn., and William Daw of Brooklyn, N. Y., were elected second and third vice presidents, respectively. Sid Novak of Chicago was named secretary-treasurer.

Select Meet Officials.

Officials selected for championship meets are:

REFEREES—Lamar Ottsen, St. Louis, Mo.; Terry Jay, New York; Herbert Knudten, Chicago.

STARTERS—Carmen Tortorello, Chicago; Ted Young, St. Louis, Mo.; Ben Yeck, Wyandotte, Mich.

UMPIRE SHOOTS SELF IN HAND AT GIANTS' GAME

New York, Oct. 19 (AP).—There are more ways than you'd imagine of getting hurt in a football game, as C. W. Rupp and Red Friesell, National football league officials, will testify.

Friesell received a broken leg early in the season while officiating in a Philadelphia-Brooklyn game and today, at the Polo grounds, Rupp shot himself. Rupp, who hails from Akron, O., fired the gun ending the first period of the Pittsburgh-New York game. Then the gun went off accidentally a second time, wounding the umpire in the left hand.

Cardinals Score First League Victory; Beat Dodgers, 20 to 6

Brooklyn, N. Y., Oct. 19 [Special].—The Chicago Cardinals hammered out a 20 to 6 triumph over the Brooklyn Dodgers today in a National Football league game in Ebbets field. The victory was the first this year for the Chicagoans and the result practically eliminated the Dodgers as contenders for the eastern divisional championship.

A crowd of 12,054 saw the Cardinals, led by an array of fine backs including Ray Mallouf, Ray Parker, and Johnny Martin, outplay the Dodgers from the beginning. Ace Parker of the Dodgers was injured while tackling Martin just before the Cards scored their second touchdown. An X-ray examination later disclosed he had sustained a slight concussion of the brain.

Play Against Old Coach.

The fans were treated to the spectacle of seeing Marshall Goldberg and Bill Daddio, both stars at the University of Pittsburgh under Jock Sutherland, playing against a professional team directed by the veteran coach.

Both teams were careful at the beginning, feeling each other out. The Cardinals received the kickoff, failed to advance, and punted. Ace Parker, who has been having a hard time getting started this year, brought the ball to the 33, but a fifteen yard clipping penalty forced the Dodgers back to their 18 and they had to kick.

Brooklyn got the ball again shortly thereafter and with Ace Parker, Merlin Condit, and Pug Manders taking turns passing and plunging, went from its 45 to the Cardinal 29. On fourth down Condit dropped back to the 37 for a field goal attempt, but failed. The Cards received the ball on their 20 and didn't give it up until they scored. A pass, Mallouf to Ray Parker, gave them a first down on their 40, but a penalty for intentional grounding of a pass brought the ball back to the 25.

Fifty Yard Pass.

Mallouf then threw a pass to Goldberg that was good for fifty yards. A penalty against the Dodgers for interfering with a pass put the ball on the 20 and then Mallouf completed a pass to Bill Dewell that brought the ball to the 3 and gave the Cardinals their third first down in succession. From there it was an easy matter for Goldberg to smash over for a touchdown. Ray Parker missed the kick.

Early in the second quarter, Daddio practically took the ball out of Ace Parker's hand as he was attempting to pass and the Cardinals had possession on their 49. With Bob Morrow and Mallouf as the work horses the Cards started to roll again. They moved to the 34, were set back five yards for too many times out, and then a pass, Mallouf to Daddio, gave them a first down on the 26.

A pass, Mallouf to Martin, brought the ball to the 9 and then Hall and Morrow combined for eight more yards. An unusual penalty for interfering with the center gave the Chicagoans a first down and on the next play, a reverse from Morrow to Hall, the Cards scored to gain a 12 to 0 lead. Lou Zontini made good on the kick.

Presented with Touchdown.

The Cardinals were presented with a touchdown at the start of the second half. On a double reverse, Manders to Condit to Perry Schwartz, the latter fumbled. The ball was snatched up by the alert Ray Parker and lateraled to Ivy, who had an easy time covering the forty yards necessary for the tally. Daddio's kick was good.

With one minute to go in the third quarter, Brooklyn finally managed to score, but this touchdown also was a gift. Hugh McCullough, back to pass, fumbled, and Bruiser Kinard, one of the Dodgers' good linemen today, gathered up the ball and ran sixty yards practically unmolested.

JETT, LION END, SUSTAINS SPINAL CORD INJURY

John Jett, 6 foot 7 inch end of the Detroit Lions, was reported to be resting comfortably last night in Illinois Masonic hospital after suffering a spinal cord injury during yesterday's game with the Bears in Wrigley field.

Dr. Daniel H. Levinthal, who attended the player, said the injury was at the neck and that there was some pressure on the nerves. A halter was applied and the neck ligaments were stretched to ease the condition. He is attended by special nurses on order of Fred Mandel of Chicago, owner of the Lions.

Jett does not remember when or how he was hurt. After the injury, tho, he returned to the game, his teammates being unaware of his condition. He said he doesn't remember the last part of the game, which the Bears won, 49 to 0.

Packers Beat Rams, 17-14, on Hutson's Goal

Cleveland, O., Oct. 19 (AP).—With only a minute to play, Don Hutson place kicked a field goal from the 15 yard line to give the Green Bay Packers a 17 to 14 National Football league triumph over the Cleveland Rams before 13,086 today.

Only a late drive—starting from the Packers' 30 yard line with seven minutes to play—saved Green Bay from a deadlock.

The tired Rams had just staved off a Packer drive after the visitors made it a first down on the Cleveland 3 yard line. The Rams then drove down the field and sent Johnny Drake over for a touchdown set up by Parker Hall's thirty-nine yard pass to Dante Magnani. Chet Adams place kicked the extra point to tie the score, but the Rams were just too worn-out to prevent the winning drive.

Hall Plays Despite Injury.

Hall, who sent a beautiful lobbing pass to End Paul McDonough from the Green Bay 25 yard line for the Rams' first touchdown in the opening period, played the entire game, altho his ailing pitching arm was so heavily bandaged he threw only two long heaves all afternoon.

The Packers tied it up in the first period with Cecil Isbell's nineteen yard pass over the goal to Carl Mulleneaux, who made the catch between two Ram defenders as he fell to the ground.

Hinkle Dives for Touchdown.

With Isbell's frequent passes to Hutson varied by line smashes by Clark Hinkle, the Packers went ahead in the third period on a drive from their 23 yard line, Hinkle diving over left guard for the touchdown.

Brooks Wins Sportsman's Jockey Prize

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Steve Brooks, who led the jockeys by an overwhelming margin during the Hawthorne meeting, won the gold watch for the best riding performances during the first week at Sportsman's Park. President John L. Keeshin will present him with the prize this afternoon.

A similar award will be made to John Oros, who is setting the pace for the trainers. Each week of the meeting the leading jockey and trainer will receive these trophies.

He Wins on Points.

Brooks' success for the first week wasn't based on the number of his winners, for he had only five to Warren Yarberry's eight. He was more consistent at getting horses in the money, however, with four seconds to Yarberry's one and nine thirds to his rival's three. On a point basis of 3-2-1 for first, second, and third, Brooks had 34 to Yarberry's 22.

Both Oros and Monte Weil saddled three winners, but the former had the edge in the second place bracket to give him 12 points to 11.

Interest Continues.

Two more weeks remain of the Chicago racing season. The popularity of the sport is continuing right up to the last stages. On Saturday, despite the unfavorable weather conditions, Sportsman's Park had the second largest mutuel handle of recent years—$419,524. This was exceeded by the $459,000 total on the closing day of the spring meeting.

The Rapid Bone ringer case will come up again this week. A hearing is scheduled for Friday in the offices of the Illinois racing board. All connected with the matter, who can be induced to show up, will be asked to tell their stories to Maj. Ednyfed Williams, Frank Mandel, and William Fay, the members of the racing board.

SCHLITZ CLAIMS NATIONAL TEAM BOWLING RECORD

The Schlitz Classic league bowling team last night rolled a total of 3,311 and claimed a record for the season.

Since the Gills' 3,367 in the Randolph league 10 days ago was ruled out, Capt. Dominick De Vito maintains his team's 3,311 is tops in the United States on latest reports from the American Bowling Congress.

Leo, 1940 Catholic High school league champion and hot favorite to retain the title this year, forged another link in its chain of victories yesterday before a crowd of 40,000 in Stagg field by routing St. Rita, 40 to 14. Proceeds of the game went to the Sisters of Mercy building fund.

Henry [Babe] Baranowski, key man in the Leo offense, sparked his team's attack by scoring three touchdowns and adding four points after touchdowns to run his total of tallies for the two league games Leo has played this season to 41.

St. George remained in the south division race with Leo by defeating St. Philip, 13 to 0, on St. Philip field. It was St. George's third straight league victory. Tom Power scored all the points for his team.

In the north division of the league, St. Ignatius whipped De Paul, 16 to 7, and moved into a tie for the sectional lead. St. Mel turned back Weber, 24 to 0, Loyola whipped St. Patrick, 6 to 0, and De La Salle defeated Joliet, 7 to 6. Fenwick drew a bye. Lineups:

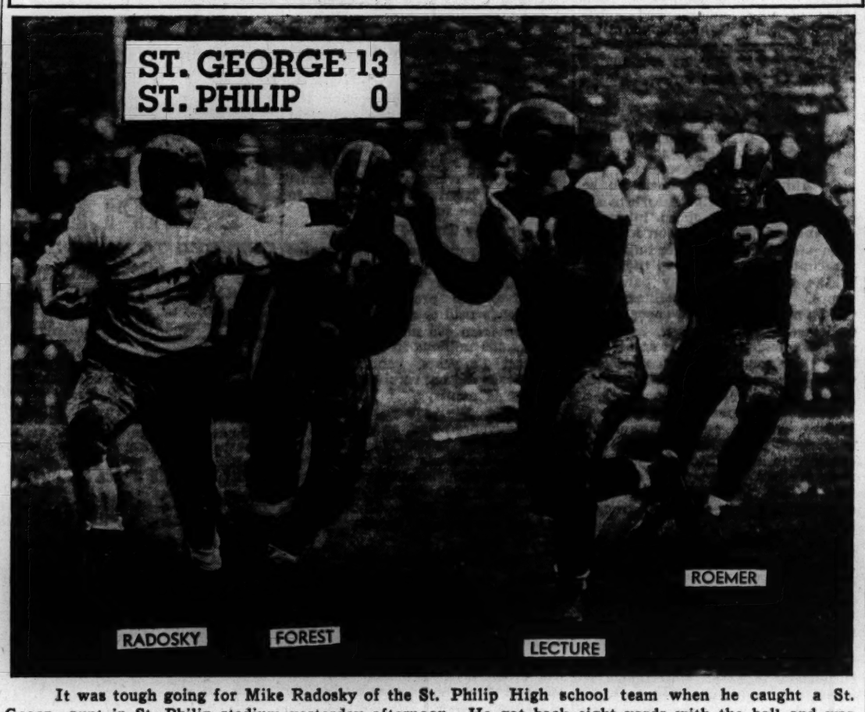
St. Philip Ball Carrier Meets the Enemy



It was tough going for Mike Radosky of the St. Philip High school team when he caught a St. George punt in St. Philip stadium yesterday afternoon. He got back eight yards with the ball and was then met by a delegation of three St. George tacklers who brought him down. St. George won the Catholic league game, 13 to 0. [TRIBUNE Photo.]

Kimbrough, Harmon Draw 25,385 Crowd

New York, Oct. 19 (AP).—Those darlings of the silver screen and radio, Tom Harmon and John Kimbrough, were only a couple of young fellows badly out of condition as they made their professional football debuts by helping the New York Americans gain a 7 to 7 tie with the Columbus Bulls in an American league game in Yankee stadium today.

In fact, the two college stars of last year spent much more time sitting on the bench trying to catch their breath than they did actually earning their $1,500 honorariums out on the field. But that didn't keep them from packing 25,385 paying customers into the Yankee ball park and returning a fine dividend on the Americans' investment.

Outdraw Giants' Game.

The size of the turnout indicated that for the first time the National league might have some serious competition on its hands for this city's football patronage. A National league game between the Giants and Pittsburgh at the Polo grounds a few blocks away drew 24,604 spectators.

Tho neither of the big attractions played anywhere near his form in college, Kimbrough and Harmon collaborated to give the Americans their touchdown in the third period and tie the score. Alternating in carrying the ball, they went twenty-four yards across the Bulls' goal line, with Harmon covering the last four on a reverse from Kimbrough.

Two Stars Gain Sixty Yards.

But that one burst was somewhat misleading. During his several appearances in the game, Harmon carried the ball 12 times and showed a net gain of only thirty-four yards. Also, Tommy had two of his passes intercepted.

As for Kimbrough, the big full back from Texas A. & M. got hold of the sphere nine times and showed a profit of only twenty-six yards, being tossed once for a loss of twelve yards by the Columbus line, which was enthusiastic about tackling the two famous newcomers. He had one nine yard run, tho, and a pair of eight yard gains.

Harmon had plenty of excuse for his indifferent showing. He had practiced with the Americans only once and probably had to be introduced to some of his blockers before the game began. He flew into New York overnight from Chicago, arriving here at 5 a. m. today, and might not have been fully awake.

John Blocks for Tom.

He looked like his Michigan self only the once—on his scoring play—and at no other time really got untracked. To Kimbrough's credit, he did some great blocking for Harmon during their scoring drive.

While all this was going on, Columbus trotted out a back named Bob Davis, who was in prime condition and who really could go places with a football. Davis ran and passed the Americans ragged most of the afternoon.

Kimbrough will be in the Americans' lineup against Buffalo here next Sunday, but Harmon will not know until the middle of the week whether he can give it another try. Kimbrough was enthusiastic about playing with Harmon and made quite a scene of it in the dressing room after the game.

Bolden Fights Bivins Tonight at Marigold

Nate Bolden, 1937 intercity Golden Gloves middleweight winner, will seek revenge for a defeat dealt him by Jimmy Bivins in a return bout of 10 rounds with the Cleveland light heavyweight tonight in Marigold gardens, Broadway and Grace street. In 15 starts since that setback, Bolden has scored 11 victories, fought one draw, and lost three decisions, his victims including Henry Chmielewski, Milo Theodorescu, and Marty Simmons.

During the same period, Bivins compiled a record of 16 triumphs in 19 appearances, eight by knockouts. In flooring Larry Kellum for the count in 17 seconds of the first round in Pittsburgh a year ago, Jim registered one of the fastest knockouts ever recorded.

Altho Bolden's backers believe Bivins is softened up from his nine round technical knockout by Big Lem Franklin last July 14, it appears he still retains sufficient ability to cope with the sharpshooting tactics of Bolden.

The supporting card is highlighted by a six round event involving Ramey McKnight, Milwaukee welterweight, and Tito Taylor. In other encounters, Ted Christy, New York junior lightweight, is paired with Kid Sanchez, Detroit, in six rounds; George Mericka, Detroit middleweight, with Johnny Crane, Chicago, in five, and Bob Smith, Pittsburgh heavyweight, with Henry Jones in four rounds.

Julie Kogon, New Haven, Conn., boxer, will start boxing drills in Trafton's gymnasium this afternoon for a rematch with Bob Montgomery, foremost lightweight contender, in the Coliseum Friday. In a previous fight between the two, Montgomery won a verdict in eight rounds. The encore is set for 10 rounds. Because Montgomery knocked out Davey Day and Kogon lost a disputed decision to Nick Castiglione in Chicago Stadium 10 days ago, fans are of the opinion Julie may not extend his antagonist from Philadelphia. According to the records they are wrong. For one thing, Kogon never has been knocked down, despite the fact he has fought the best in his weight class. Also, Montgomery is not as good as his first round conquest of Day would seem to indicate.

Barney Ross is expected to referee a series of amateur bouts between Des Moines and Chicago Catholic Youth organization boxers in Des Moines next Monday. . . . George Mitchell, former Detroit Golden Gloves middleweight standard bearer, has been matched to meet Anthony Jones of Chanute field, Rantoul, Ill., in Hammond Civic center Oct. 29.

Sobs of a Substitute.

I met the little beauty at a dance,
And she showed such abject humility
That I was hypnotized, and in a trance
I asked her if she wouldn't dance with me;
She seemed just like a wave of silver flame
And I forgave her for the double deal,
I somehow knew she couldn't be to blame
For going out with that ungainly heel.

Her eyes were spotless blue like lily pools,
Her velvet skin was alabaster white,
Her laugh was like the summer breeze that cools
The petals of the rose on a June night;
'Twas just her appetite that caused me pain,
Her dinner set me back five bucks again. —T. E. B.

Harder Fills Noted Brogans at Wisconsin

piled up 127 points in six games, eclipsing the previous one man job of 97 points accumulated by Jankowski in the same high school set. In eight games per season Harder toured over the enemy goal line so frequently that he amassed 143 points. Not a bad total for two years behind the line.

Along with his football Harder dabbled in other prep sports. He was captain of the basketball team and Wisconsin's cage coaches probably will be giving him lots of attention in the near future. In the spring of 1939 he was state low hurdle champion and second in the high hurdles. The Badger track coaches sit up and listen whenever they hear his name mentioned.

Harder has yards with which to prove he has launched his collegiate career most successfully. His shifty stride carried him 84 yards in 12 plays against the rugged Northwestern defense. He picked up 79 yards in the game lost to Marquette. He made another addition—82 yards—against Iowa yesterday.

BLACKHAWKS IN MINNEAPOLIS, BUT JUST MARK TIME

Exhibition with Millers Is Called Off.

BY EDWARD BURNS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Minneapolis, Minn., Oct. 20.—The Chicago Blackhawks arrived here tonight after 12 days of rigorous drilling at their training camp in Hibbing, Minn.

While en route, the Hawks thought they were coming to Minneapolis to engage the Minneapolis Millers in an exhibition hockey game after two days of working out in the refurbished Minneapolis arena. They were disappointed about the exhibition game on account the Millers are having Canadian border trouble and can't muster a quorum for a contest.

Awaiting the arrival of the Hawks was Cully Dahlstrom, who is ready to launch his sixth season with the Chicago team if it turns out the pay is adequate. Cully is the first Hawk holdout since Earl Seibert balked five years ago.

Likes Spot He's In.

Being a native and a citizen of the United States, a family man deferred in our draft, and a popular and able player, Cully figures he has picked a good spot to chat about a revision of terms. He is not noisy about the matter, however, and the terms involved in the controversy have not been revealed by either the player or his employers. The fact that Dahlstrom journeyed here from his home in Seattle would seem to indicate he is in a receptive mood.

The Hawks plowed into war time problems early and are far ahead of some of the teams in the National league, especially those that trained in Canada. In addition, five of the nine United States citizens who are likely to play in the National Hockey league this year are members of the Hawks.

The United States natives are Goalie Sammy Lopresti, Johnny Mariucci, defense; Dahlstrom, center; Fido Purpur, and Joe Papike, right wingers. Besides, Earl Seibert received his final citizenship papers last week and Mush March, starting his 15th season with the Hawks, is well along in the naturalization processes.

Others Eligible, Too.

The foregoing are here and so are the following Canadians who got across the border under a variety of provisions: Doug and Max Bentley, Bob and Bill Carse, George Allen, Phil Hegesheimer, and Bill Thoms, the Hawks' leading scorer last season.

Because of cancellation of the exhibition game scheduled for Wednesday night the troupe may move out of here for Champaign earlier than expected. They plan to work out with Johnny Gottselig's Kansas City Hawk farm hands and play an exhibition game with the Kansas City team Oct. 28. The teams also will play an exhibition game in Chicago Arena Nov. 1 and the next night in Kansas City.

NEWS OF FINANCE AND COMMERCE

INDUSTRY GAINS IN OUTPUT AS PRICES ADVANCE

Textile Production Is Reduced.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19 (AP).—The Federal Reserve board said today that industrial output rose seasonally during September, holding the adjusted index of activity at 160 per cent of the 1935-1939 average, the third month that level has been maintained.

The board said that the high rate of activity continued thru the first half of October with further increases in armament production accompanied by smaller output of some civilian goods, particularly automobiles, rubber, and silk.

Industrial Prices Rise.

Industrial prices went up, the board said, but farm prices declined after the middle of September and fell again in mid-October.

The reduction in silk mill activity pulled down the level of textile production. Coal output showed less than the customary increase as a result of work stoppages at some mines, the board said.

General merchandise distribution rose less than seasonally following an unusually large volume in August. The board said that department store sales were down during the first half of October after a peak reached in September as the result of buying in anticipation of new federal taxes.

Loan Volume Reduced.

Meanwhile, the commerce department reported that industrial banking company loans declined 13.3 per cent during September, the first month of instalment credit rule.

The September loan volume was 3.2 per cent below the same month a year ago and was the first month in 1941 to show a decline compared with the corresponding 1940 month.

Seek New Jobs for Auto Labor Soon to Be Idle

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19 (AP).—Labor and management groups will meet in St. Louis and Kansas City this week to discuss plans for armament reemployment and re-training of about 10,000 automobile workers, due for layoffs in the next two months in the two Missouri cities.

★SMALL BUSINESS★ MAN'S DEPARTMENT

This department is prepared to help the small business man who is seeking information on priorities, substitute materials, and related subjects. Inquiries should be directed to the Small Business Man's department, Chicago Tribune, Chicago, Ill. All inquiries will be given careful attention. Letters on subjects of broad interest will be published with comment.

DRY CLEANING.

I have a small dry cleaning plant which requires carbon tetrachloride which I have been unable to obtain in sufficient quantities My supplier tells me that he will not be able to sell me any more. What can I do?

Answer: General preference order No. M-41 controls the supply of chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents, including carbon tetrachloride. The regulation gives dry cleaning establishments a small share in the residual supplies of the solvent after "defense" and essential needs are filled.

The owner of the dry cleaning plant must provide the supplier of the solvent with a purchaser's certificate in duplicate on form PD-127. His order then will be assigned a B-2 rating and he will be entitled to receive in any one month one twelfth of the amount of the solvent used during the six months ended June 30, 1941.

This means that the dry cleaning plant will be able to obtain one half of its normal monthly requirements as established by operations in the first half this year. However, there is no guarantee of this supply because the regulation merely permits dry cleaning establishments, among others, to get a supply only if stocks are left over after A-rated orders are filled, and a reserve pool is provided.

If, after requirements for defense orders, the reserve pool, and essential uses are covered, there remains a supply of the solvents, dry cleaning plants are permitted a rating of B-8 along with four other consumers, to share in the residue.

The regulation forbids accumulation of stocks of the chlorinated hydrocarbon solvents in excess of a 30 day supply.

EXTEND CEILING PRICES.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19 [Special].—Leon Henderson, administrator of the Office of Price Administration, today announced a new price schedule bringing nearly all major types of cotton goods made of carded yarn—from coarse bagging and tough work clothing denims to fine count broadcloth—under ceiling prices automatically adjustable to the price of raw cotton.

THOUSANDS PLAN TO ATTEND ARMS OUTPUT MEETING

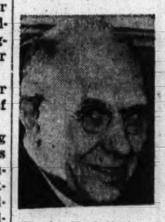
Thousands of small manufacturers, contractors, and other business executives from eight states are expected to attend a series of conferences on armament production at the Stevens hotel Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday. Gov. Green and Mayor Kelly are scheduled to deliver addresses of welcome. Gov. Green suggested the conferences in his Labor day address.

The meeting will be held under the direction of the federal Office of Production Management.

It is expected that the meeting will bring together prime contractors engaged in arms work, smaller manufacturers, and potential subcontractors who may be offered the possibility of several hundred million dollars worth of work. More than 2,500 subcontractors and more than 125 prime contractors have accepted invitations to the gathering.

SEC Reveals Sales and Gifts of Securities

Disposal of 13,200 shares of General Motors corporation common stock by Charles F. Kettering, vice president and director, was among the larger security transactions during August reported yesterday by the Securities and Exchange commission. The shares had a total value in excess of a half million dollars.



Charles F. Kettering.

Gifts of stock made by Chicagoans included 2,000 shares of Spiegel, Inc., by Modie J. Spiegel Jr., president and general manager of the big mail order house. The shares had a value of about $12,000.

Sells Peoples Gas Stock.

James A. Cunningham, secretary and assistant treasurer of the Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, sold 1,000 shares of the corporation's capital stock. The shares were worth close to $50,000, the sale reducing his holdings to 2,600 shares at the end of August.

Dwane L. Wallace, president and general manager of the Cessna Aircraft company, Wichita, Kas., and Dwight S. Wallace, secretary and treasurer of the company, jointly disposed of 20,000 shares of the corporation's common stock. The shares at the time of their disposal were worth more than $185,000.

Disposes of Steel Shares.

Mrs. H. T. Campbell was listed as having sold 3,000 shares of Allegheny Ludlum Steel common in June, 3,000 in July, and 2,600 in August. At the end of August she held 40,236 shares. Market quotations on the shares at the time of the sales would indicate a return to Mrs. Campbell of more than $200,000.

Frederick Henry Prince, Providence, R. I., a director of Armour & Co., was listed as having transferred 4,000 of his shares of the company's stock into the F. H. Prince trust.

CHICAGO FIRMS NAMED IN FTC DESIST ORDER

Two trade associations and several companies, including five of the Chicago area, were ordered to cease alleged restriction of competition in the food service and chinaware fields, the Federal Trade commission announced yesterday at Washington.

The associations named are Food Service Equipment Industry, Inc., Chicago, and American Vitrified China Manufacturers' association, an unincorporated association of chinaware manufacturers.

Chicago companies named were Alex Janows & Co., Albert Pick Company, Inc., the Stearnes company, and McGraw Electric company. G. S. Blakeslee company, Cicero, Ill., also was named.

CORN PRODUCTS EARNS $7,362,376 IN NINE MONTHS

New York, Oct. 19 [Special].—Operations of the Corn Products Refining company and its subsidiary sales companies in the nine months ended on Sept. 30 resulted in a net income of $7,362,376 after all charges including $1,125,000 reserve for depreciation and $7,400,000 provision for normal federal income and excess profits taxes, the company reported today.

After allowing for dividend requirements on the preferred stock, the net income is equivalent to $2.40 a share on the 2,530,000 shares of common stock. Net income was $6,069,016, or $1.89 a common share reported in the first nine months of 1940, when tax deductions totaled $2,773,431.

Reynolds Metals Reports Large Increase in Sales

Sales of impression lead and electrotypers foil during the first six months of 1941 increased more than 150 per cent over the corresponding period last year, T. P. Yonts, electrotyping industry manager of the Reynolds Metals company, announced yesterday.

HINT SEIZURE OF KEY PLANE PLANT BY U. S.

Strike Is Authorized at Bell Aircraft.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19 (AP).—The defense mediation board announced tonight that it was turning over to President Roosevelt the labor dispute at Air Associates, Inc., of Bendix, N. J., a key plant in the nation's aircraft industry, which it had been striving to settle since July.

The announcement immediately stirred conjecture that the government may take over the plant, which has five million dollars of vital armament contracts, most of them for parts to be supplied to nearly all of the country's leading airplane manufacturers.

Similar action by the board, it was recalled, preceded the taking over by the navy department of the Federal Shipbuilding and Dry Dock company at Kearny, N. J.

Reinstatements Are Involved.

The principal point at issue involves the immediate reinstatement to their jobs of members of the CIO United Automobile Workers union who charge that they were locked out. Air Associates and the union also have been at odds on other controversies.

The board recommended Oct. 9 that the company immediately return all strikers to their former jobs without discrimination. In publishing its findings, the board said it felt "obliged to observe that this company has not exhibited toward either this certified union or the national defense mediation board that attitude of coöperation to which the public is entitled on the part of a company whose operations are essential to the defense of the nation."

Vote Strike at Two Plants.

Buffalo, N. Y., Oct. 19 (AP).—The CIO United Automobile Workers' union voted today in favor of a strike at Bell Aircraft corporation's two warplane plants in Buffalo and Niagara Falls, but decided to withhold action "until all possible means of arbitration have been exhausted."

The company, employing 10,500 at the two plants, produces the speedy cannon-carrying Airacobra [P-39], said to be the fastest single-engined pursuit plane made in the United States.

The UAW-CIO, which has a contract with the company and claims 90 per cent of the workers as members, called for the strike vote last Friday because, La Motte said, wage negotiations had reached a stalemate.

STEEL INDUSTRY HIT.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 19 (AP).—The magazine Steel said today that threatening labor conditions and continued shortage of steel making scrap cast their shadows over the steel industry, with possibility of steel production being severely curtailed before the winter passes. With winter at hand and reserves low, the outlook is dismal unless the current scrap movement is sharply increased, it said.

Jewelry Industry's Wage Minimum 40 Cents an Hour

Washington, D. C., Oct. 19 (AP).—The wage-hour administration issued an order today establishing a minimum wage of 40 cents an hour in the jewelry manufacturing industry, effective Nov. 3.

War Featured in Toys Ready for Yule Trade

New York, Oct. 19 [Special].—America's way of living will be the keynote of the 1941 Christmas toy offerings, according to the toy manufacturers of the U. S. A., Inc., who will place on display here tomorrow a preview of their new seasonal offerings. Miniature reproductions of American methods of homemaking, art, science, transportation engineering, and production will provide children with a wide range of constructive play activities.

Altho shortages due to manufacturing difficulties are expected to keep the total volume of toy sales at a level only slightly higher than last year's 240 million dollars, all the basic types of toys, games, and hobby materials will be available, according to the toy associates, which reported that in the last 10 years less than 5 per cent of the total toy volume has been imported.

Books Feature Army Life.

Toy models of army and navy equipment reflect the heightened interest in America's national armament program this year, the association reported. Every type of American airplane can be reproduced in model size, and a new construction set gives youngsters instructions for building a parachute jump similar to that used in the training of army parachute troops. Some of the military toys will be magnetic mine sweeper games, model coast defense forts, and anti-aircraft guns. Army tanks and trucks have their counterparts in miniature wheel toys, and new children's books feature pictures of life in army camps.

An almost "human" baby has been devised with a realistic sounding heart beat which child mothers can check with a stethoscope, just like their doctor's. Other baby dolls are able to eat from a spoon, to blow soap bubbles, or to drink from a bottle.

An Almost Endless Variety.

For the first time a composition doll walks when you take her by the arm, and is able to sit down alone. One new line features dolls that carry miniatures of themselves.

Scientific toys offer an almost endless variety of openings for juvenile enthusiasts to learn. More than 1,000 laboratory techniques used in American industry have been adapted for playroom use.

Realistically equipped garages and gasoline stations will be shown in low price ranges.

People and Events

Dr. Arthur Newell Talbot, professor emeritus of the University of Illinois, will be honored tomorrow afternoon at the university by the American Railway Engineering association in recognition of nearly 30 years of research work for the railroads. A bronze tablet will be presented to the university for erection in the laboratory bearing his name. The occasion will mark Dr. Talbot's retirement as chairman of the association's special committee on stresses in railroad track.

Dr. A. N. Talbot.

J. J. Kline of Springfield has been elected president of the Illinois Association of Refrigeration Service Engineers society. Other officers named were: B. V. Clark, Aurora, first vice president; Earl Seaton, Rockford, second vice president; Glenn Dresback, Bloomington, secretary; A. D. McGill, Peoria, treasurer, and R. A. Potter, Springfield, sergeant at arms.

WARNS RAILS' RISING PROFITS ARE TRANSITORY

Transport Men Say Earnings Will Dip.

Currently rising railroad earnings are "purely transitory," the Transportation Association of America declared yesterday. It also asserted that the public will be vitally affected by whatever recommendations the President's fact finding board makes in its report on the railroad labor dispute.

Present traffic and earnings are abnormal and will decline when the armament effort ends, the statement warned, calling at the same time for consideration of the securities holders as well as the employés of the roads. The investors' welfare must be guarded if private ownership is to prevail in the future, it said.

Investor Treated Shabbily.

"The investor has been treated shabbily over the last decade," the association, thru Donald D. Conn, executive vice president, asserted. "Dividends paid to rail stock holders declined from 490 million dollars in 1929 to 159 millions in 1940. During the last 12 years, bondholders of many roads did not receive even their interest payments.

"During the same period, rail wages advanced and, as reported by the statistical bureau of the Interstate Commerce commission, the average hourly compensation per railway employé in 1940 was 12.6 per cent higher than in 1929 and the total average earnings per employé gained 9½ per cent.

Dividend Average Falls.

"The average railroad dividend rate in 1940 showed a decline of 78 per cent compared with 1929, while the average drop for 600 other industries was 38½ per cent. During the last 10 years the railroad stock holder has received 88 per cent less per share of stock owned than during the preceding decade."

Conn said that any increase in wages of the roads' employés "will be passed along to the public in the form of increased rates, adding to the danger of inflation and increasing the cost of living."

Such increases in wages as may be found warranted for this abnormal period should, Conn said, be made subject to revision in conformity with "the downward trend of railroad earnings which is sure to ensue."

Day by Day on the Farm by Gail Compton

Trick of Nature.

October 19, 1941.

CONTINUOUS days of rain this fall seem to have been another trick of nature to drum into the farmer's mind that he must do his work when he can, and not procrastinate.

Once before this year adverse weather conditions threw farmers off their work schedules. When the first cutting of alfalfa was due to be made, many farmers put off the work and were held up by weather so wet that it was impossible to enter the fields.

Now rain has forced farmers out of their fields again. Many of them have been unable to finish their fall plowing. A steady, soaking rain has softened the ground so that tractor wheels spin hopelessly in thick gumbo. A drive thru the countryside reveals field after field only half plowed. Weeds are taking over land that was furrowed because the farmers cannot use their disks and harrows to destroy them.

Steady Plowing.

The men at the Du Page county farm are thankful that they have completed all of the fall plowing. As soon as the oats and hay crops were harvested, the plowing machinery was moved onto the fields. As a result of this quick action and steady plowing, once it was started, the Du Page fields stand in neat, even furrows. The farm is well ahead of other farms.

The rain, while good for the soil, caught many farmers off guard. They now are having trouble with much of their fall work. Silo filling has been stopped in many places because the fields have been too soft to enter. Soy bean harvesting has come to a standstill as the beans have been too wet to handle.

Despite surprises such as this almost every year, the average farmer finds it hard to profit from experience. A county fair or little odd jobs still occupy his time while a major job is left waiting. Then, when he finally gets around to doing the important work he often encounters unfavorable weather or working conditions that force him to stand by idly while valuable time and crops are lost. The farmer seems unable to heed the axiom to make hay while the sun shines.

Building Bull Pen.

The bull pen that is being erected in one of the barns is rapidly nearing completion. The men have laid a concrete floor that later will be covered with bricks or wood. The stall will measure 12x12 feet. The barn measures 24x60 feet.

The farm manager has purchased three more Shorthorn heifers to add to the purebred herd being established at the farm. All of the new animals should be at the farm this week, and the farm workers will have an opportunity to look over stock which they hope will be the nucleus for one of the top Shorthorn herds in the country.

PENN MEX STATUS.

What is the status of the Penn Mex Fuel company whose stock is listed on the New York Curb? I haven't heard anything about it for some time.—J. D.

Answer: In March, 1938, all assets of Penn Mex in Mexico were seized by the government of that country under an expropriation decree applying to foreign companies owning petroleum properties or concessions in Mexico. Since that time no business has been transacted. In July this year, it was announced that the Mexican government had made a full cash payment of $300,000 for the company's confiscated properties, but nothing has been reported since then.

When the properties were seized, the only assets remaining under the company's control were $236,712 in current assets in the United States, of which $197,195 was distributed to stockholders as a liquidating dividend. This dividend, paid in June, 1938, amounted to 50 cents a share and was paid in connection with the reduction in par value of the capital stock from $1 to 50 cents. No further payments have been reported. Total assets at the end of 1937 were $751,216. Penn Mex is controled by the Consolidated Oil corporation.

ALUMINUM INDUSTRIES.

I would appreciate what information you have on Aluminum Industries, such as earnings in the last three or four years, and where its output is sold.—S. R. C.

Answer: Aluminum Industries, Inc., produces numerous engine parts for the automotive and aircraft industries. Important products include aluminum alloy and semisteel pistons, pistol pins, valves, water pumps, cylinder heads, and steel, bronze, and aluminum bushings. A subsidiary, the B. B. B. corporation, owns and controls patents covering packless pumps and seals. The company, organized in 1927, has its main plant at Cincinnati.

In 1937, profit slumped to $9,725. The next year there was a loss of $34,853, but in 1939 and 1940 the company showed respective profits of $159,969 and $166,965. For the first six months this year, net income was $121,849, compared with $71,708 in the corresponding 1940 period. Annual sales in recent years have averaged about $3,000,000. An army order of $3,960,000 for shot was received in August.

No dividends were paid in 1939. Last year 45 cents was distributed and three 15 cent payments have been made this year. The only capitalization is 99,430 shares of no par common stock, listed on the New York Curb and Cincinnati Stock exchanges. Total assets at the end of June were $3,408,953.
